Kerri-
I'm glad I got to know you in high school. I'm surprised you're graduating so soon — well, it was so much!! Come into the Bayshore House before I quit — I'll do my best to make up for all the times you've served me! You should have stayed up for — instead of your last night. I'll always remember Barnes' [redacted] circus sometimes known as his Econ class. Thus was possibly the most memorable high school class — glad you were there. Good luck & Love to be old & — Friends (and [redacted])

Kerry,
your independence astounds me!
But more importantly, you are obviously a loving person who really cares. That trait will set you far. HANG IN THERE!!!
Were out — Free.

NO MORE ROOM AT ET: "FULL HOUSE"

The yearbook staff for 1981-1982 was in a quandary. The big question was, "What's the theme for this year's publication going to be?" The advisor, editors, and publication manager all racked their brains trying to come up with a theme that would have something, anything, to do with the school. Then, one day, it reached out and slapped them in the face.

The 1981-1982 school year presented a new problem to El Toro — overcrowding. The problem was, and still is evident everywhere on campus. In the beginning, it seemed to take twice as long to pass from class to class. If one was a little late for lunch, it was impossible to find a table in the quad. Six new portables had been installed over the summer, and during fourth and fifth periods, all the classes on campus were filled to capacity.

El Toro's problem was overcrowding; the yearbook staff's problem was the theme. The two problem's were combined, and one was solved. The theme had to have something to do with "overcrowding." "Overcrowding" was too dull, though, too benign, too hard to represent. The Amanecer staff then came up with it, the perfect solution. To use the term "full house" to represent overcrowding, and use playing cards to depict "full house."

Everything fit in perfectly. The classes became "Face Cards" and the teachers were transformed into the "Dealers." In a sense, the yearbook staff had become the gamblers, and had won the pot.

So, the yearbook staff would like to play its hand, and present the 1981-82 edition of the Amanecer, "Full House."

Erin Westerman and Christiana Jenny perform to Hall and Oats' "You Make My Dreams Come True" during the Homecoming pep assembly. 10. Lylac Baker and Scott Ballard look on as the seniors are victorious in the Spirit Week field assembly.

"Wild Cards," as the yearbook staff prefers to call activities, were often times the highlights of the year. Breaking the monotony of school days and school work, these "Wild Cards" involved every aspect of teenage life, ranging from dances and formals for the music lovers, to Homecoming and Powder Puff for the sports fans.

Some special appearances this year by famous names included a surprise visit from football great O. J. Simpson and a visit and speech from Wilson Riles, state superintendent of education for California, as well as a visit from "Clark Kent" at the Homecoming game to announce the 1981 Homecoming Queen.

To see students walking around campus with ace bandages around their arms and the color gone from their face was not unusual on the day of the annual Red Cross Blood Drive. Sixteen and seventeen year old "babies" were not unusual on October 7, El Toro's annual senior Baby Day, which was preceded by junior 50's day, sophomore 60's day and freshman tourist day. The faculty wasn't left out of the festivities either. On Friday they dressed up in their best "Western Duds."

West Side Story was this year's musical production, a popular and fun-filled fund-raiser for the performing arts department. The annual Sadie Hawkins dance and Donkey Basketball game were included in this year's "Wild Cards," also.

All these, and many more, "Wild Cards" were sponsored this year to give El Toro's students a chance to really "play their hands!"

"WILD CARDS"

SENIORS REENACT SESAME STREET

This year's senior Baby Day was a great success. Almost all of the seniors participated in the activities and had a lot of fun. During snack, the senior hall was available for viewing. The hall was decorated like Sesame Street. Life size figures of the children's T.V. show characters were on display including replicas of Big Bird, The Cookie Monster, Oscar the Grouch, and Ernie and Bert. Down the hall was a playpen filled with stuffed animals and dolls. During lunch, the senior babies played kiddie games. In the quad, games like duck duck goose and ring around the rosie were played. In the lower quad, the babies rocked to the beat of a band called The Detectives. Preceding the baby day events was a night of parties before going to the school to toilet paper it. There were approximately 1500 rolls of toilet paper used. Almost every area on the campus was covered. The t.p. stayed up all day but after school the seniors were very busy cleaning it up. The hardest part was getting it out of the trees and off the wet grass.

1. Seniors Joy Binns, Kristie Perkins and Sandy Spriggs snack on chocolate milk during Baby Day festivities. 2. Warren Paez and Suzanne Willis stroll amid post-Baby Day clutter. 3. Stuck inside the giant pen stands Johnny Perez. 4. Brian Flanagan, Dan Klien, and Drummond Buckley travel in search of mischief. 5. Pre dawn "decorated" campus awaits the arrival of babies. 6. "Cranky Pants" Sandra Lea observes Baby Day lunch activities. 7. Aaron Lybarger watches as the senior class is served breakfast at IHOP. 8. Vicki Mirza and Delise Smith look on as the senior class officers choose whose the best baby. 9. A group of babies gather into their teams for a game of red-rover.

JUNIORS DRESS AS THE FIFTIES FOR SPIRIT

The juniors rocked around the clock during fifties day this year. The hallway was decorated like a soda shop. There was a table and chairs set up in one corner, and in the other corner there was a pinball machine. During snack there was a long line to play it. The walls had girls and guys phone numbers written all over them. There were also a lot of forty-five rpm records. During lunch the juniors did the Bunny Hop, the Twist and shaked rattled and rolled to the music of Elvis Presley, the Four Seasons and other popular fifties singers. There was also a vintage Ford on display during snack and lunch. The Juniors showed a lot of spirit this year.

1. Melissa Osborn takes a break from fifties activities to crack a book. 2. A group of spirited girls dance to the music of the fifties disc-jockey. 3. Mitch Freem and Eddie Austin act cool in their vintage Ford on display during Spirit Week. 4. Lisa Gasser looks up from her studies in Mr. Steve Stratos' classroom.

CLASS OF '84 POSTS SECOND IN SPIRIT

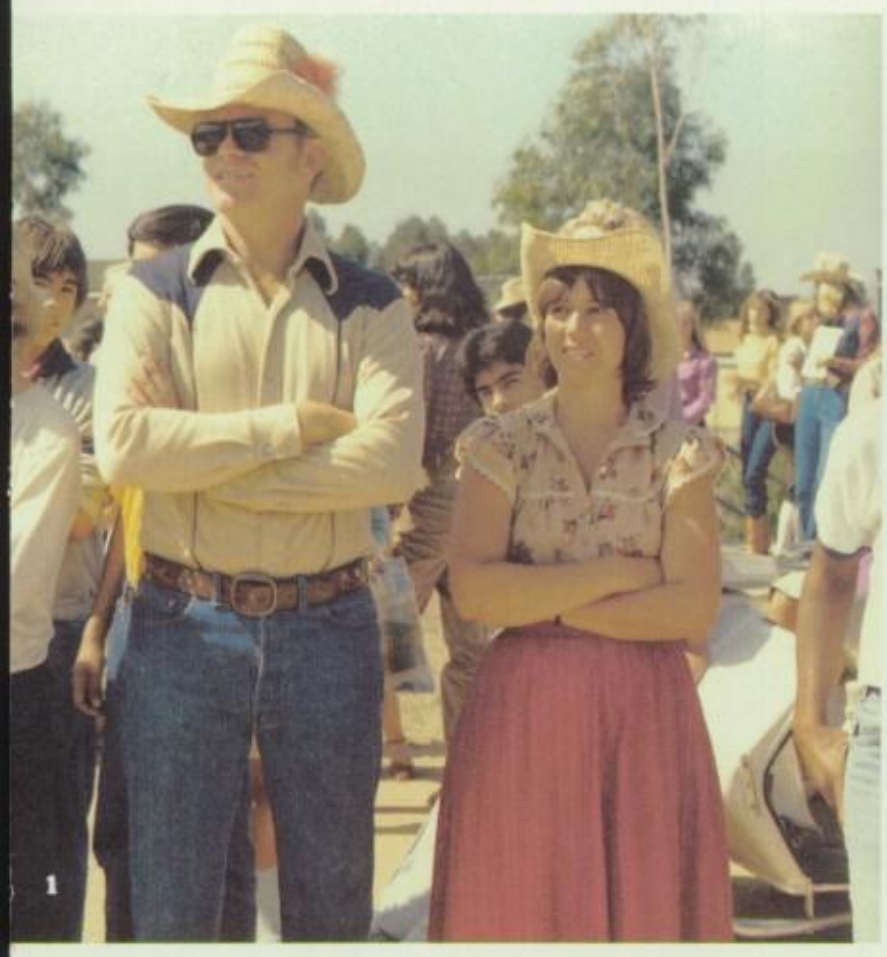
This year's sophomores really got into the spirit of the sixties. During snack there was a protest sit-in led by Shannon Parnell. There was also a love van with bean bag chairs all around to relax on throughout the day. During lunch there was a special visit by the Beatles, portrayed by Shelly Stenger, Monique Brass, Peggy Callahan, and Barbara DeSpain. There was also another protest to stop the Vietnam War. The hallway walls were decorated with popular sixties rock stars such as Jimi Hendrix, The Doors, and The Beatles. There were peace symbols all over, and "Flower Children" gave out signs and flowers throughout the day.

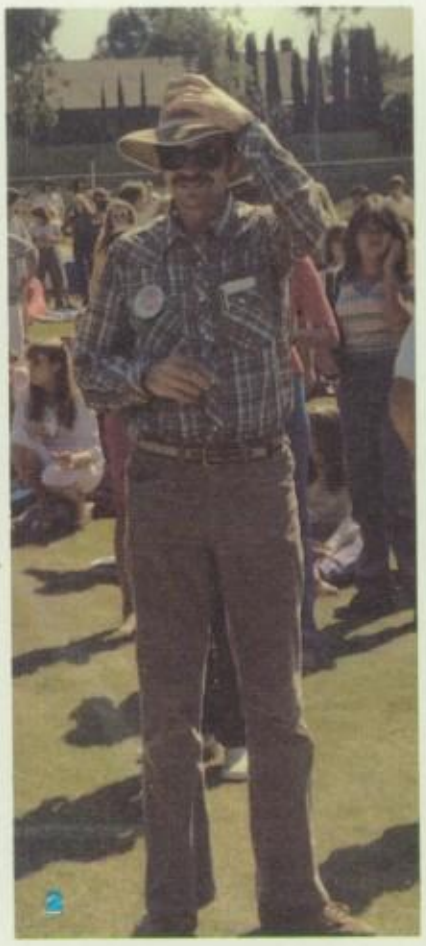
1. Spirited Celeste Reinick, dressed as a flower child, walks to her next class. 2. Shawn Mortensen takes a break from handing out daisies to talk with friends Wendy Hurly and Cindy Matthews. 3. Friends Esther Eun, Sally Tanner, Courtney Lorenz and Corrine McCamey converse on stairs. 4. Frank Maras acts like a cool hippie in his sixties outfit.

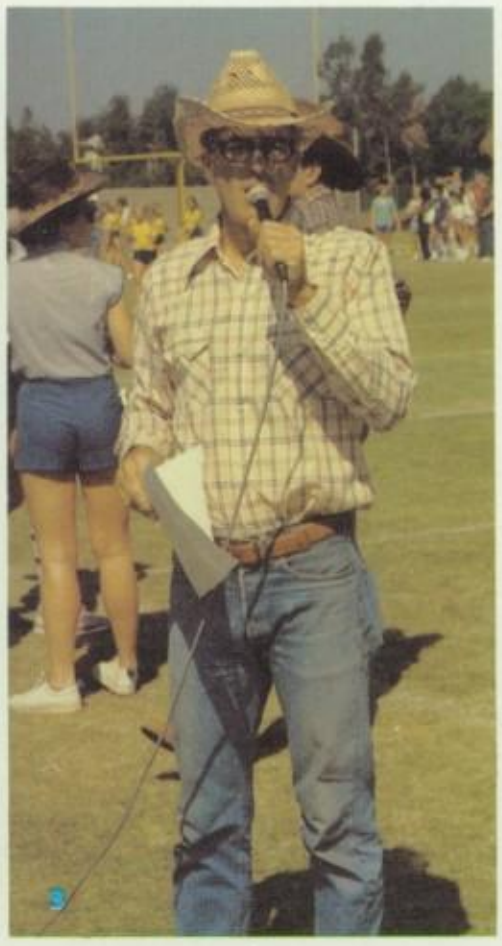
FRESHMEN DRESS AS TOURISTS FOR SPIRIT

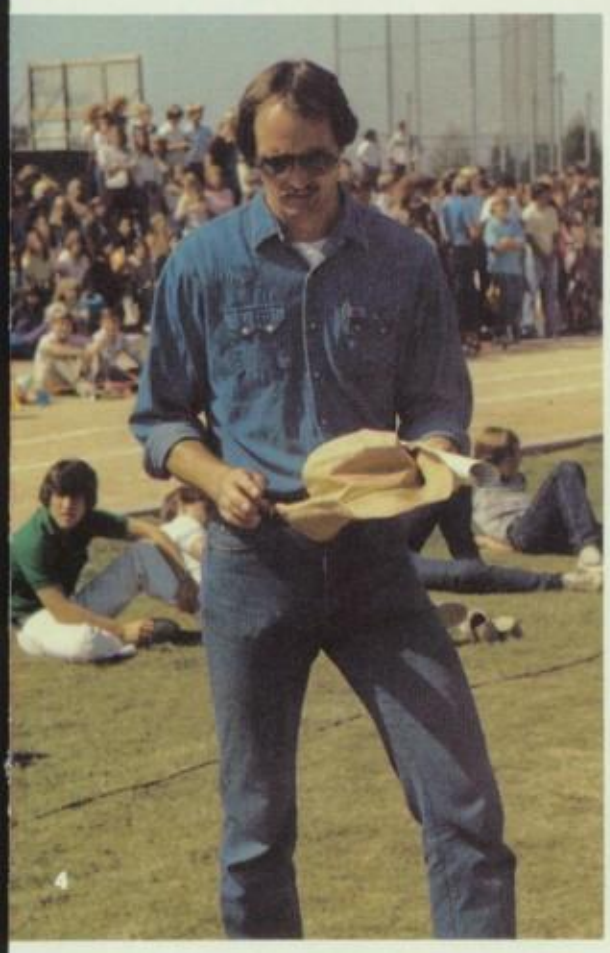
This year Tourist Day was the choice of the freshmen for Spirit Week. Many freshmen participated in the joyful events. The freshmen who dressed, which was a great majority, carried around cameras and wore Mickey Mouse ears. The clothes they wore consisted of cut off shorts, and Hawaiian print shirts. The freshmen hallway was designed as a travel agency's office. There was a desk with many travel brochures and traveling magazines. On the walls were many tourist type posters. In the field events, the freshmen showed they were tough competetors. They displayed great efforts even though the attempt was unsuccessful.

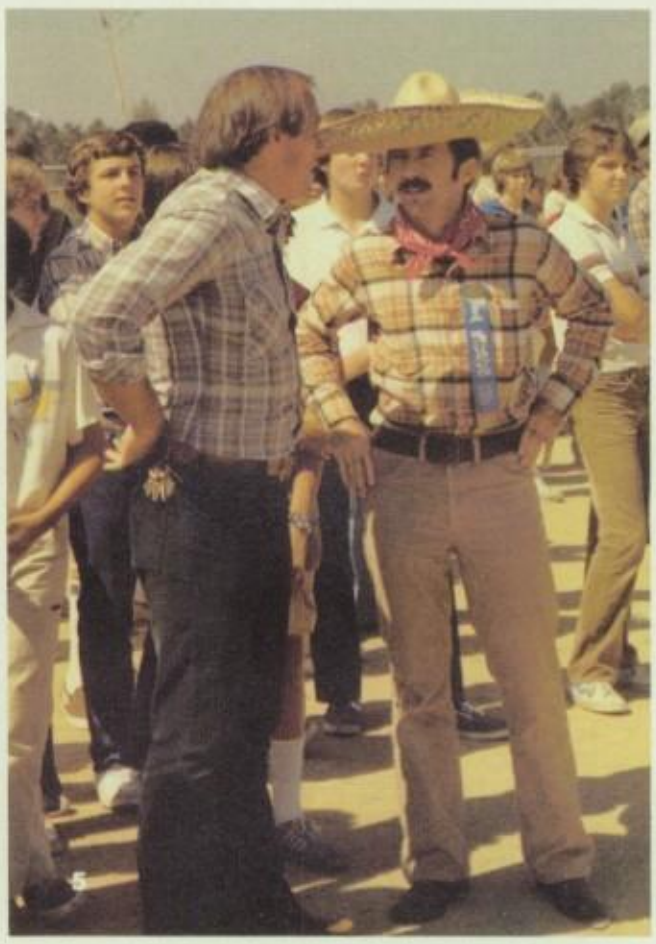
1. Tourists Allison McLaughlin and Kelly Farley stop between classes to pose for a picture. 2. Spirited Lori Stroup and Jeff Stilson leave their lockers and head toward the lunch line. 3. Kim Drexel, Gina Donohoe, and Jackie Ferney talk in the upper quad before their next class begins. 4. Patty Eubanks displays her spirit as she quickly walks to her next class.











FACULTY GOES FOR WESTERN AGAIN

Again the faculty chose to dress in western gear. Most of the faculty participated in the day's events. The faculty came dressed in cowboy boots and hats. Also, they wore western style shirts and blue jeans. The faculty was in charge of supervising the field events against the different classes. Mr. Kieth Sims was the chief organizer of the field events. Other faculty members were in charge of supervising the sidelines and the different contests.

1. Terry Dazey and Beverly Hughes look on and watch the classes compete during the Spirit Week field day events. 2. Keith Sims stands on the sidelines supervising the relay race. 3. Emcee Keith Osborn tells students, "that the Goodyear blimp will be arriving any time now for live coverage of the events." 4. Dan Hair doesn't look too happy as he straightens out his flattened cowboy hat. 5. Richard Alderson and Dick McDowell talk as they keep students away from field activities. 6. Claire Arroyo looks up from her desk in the office as she files library cards. 7. Deena Hornsby stops from teaching algebra to pose for a picture.

MONICA OSBORN CROWNED '81 QUEEN

"Hello, Again" was the theme of the 1981 Homecoming which proved to be a great success. There was a pep assembly during fourth period, during which last year's song and cheerleaders performed. For a grand finale to the assembly the alumni drummers performed in a "strobe" lite gym, for the last time. The football team had great support from the crowd, and beat University, 38-7. During halftime there was the crowning of the queen, Monica Osborn, announced by Clark Kent. The king, Mark Matranga, was crowned the following night at the dance.

1. Clark Kent impersonator walks up to stage to announce the Homecoming Queen. 2. Alumni song and cheerleaders take a break to pose for a picture. 3. Cindy Hamm and Mike Dykes dance to the music of Head First. 4. Number 32, Damon Sweazy runs with the ball to score a touchdown. 5. Rick Watson dances in the gym during the Homecoming dance. 6. El Toro mascot charges through banner held by Kit Bowen and Monica Osborn.

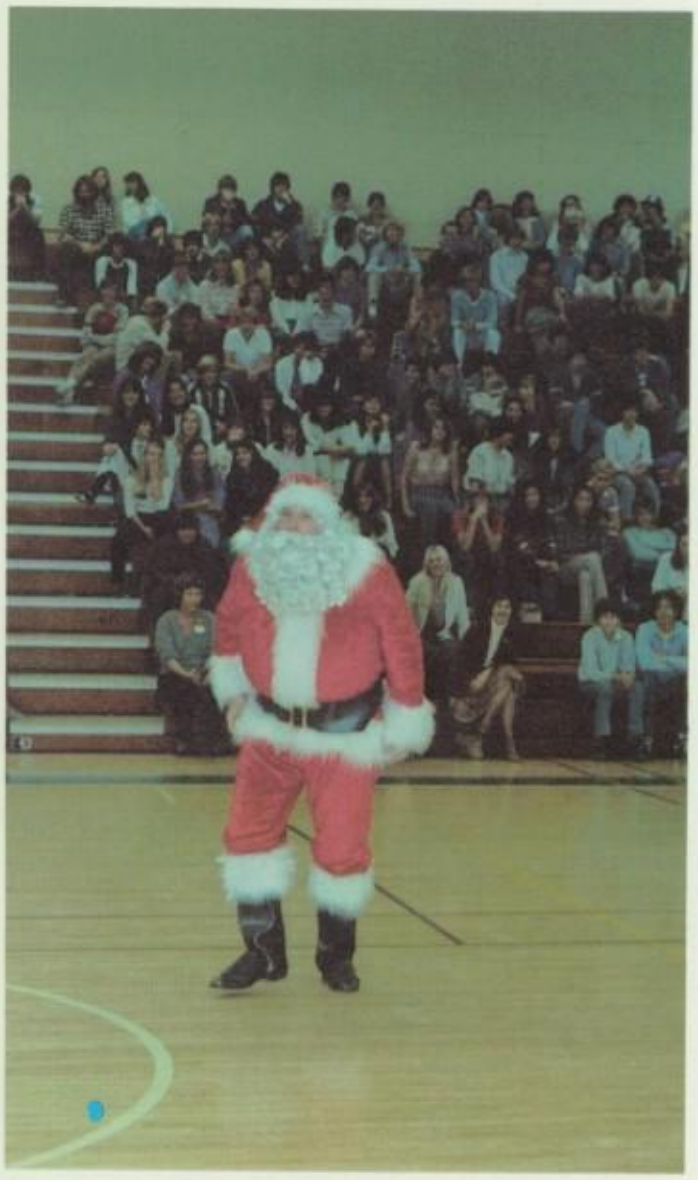
HOLIDAY SPIRIT SHOWN AT ASSEMBLY

This year's Christmas assembly began with the band playing songs titled "Holiday on Ice" and "Babes in Toyland." Afterward the choirs sang. The Concert Choir performed songs titled "The Gift" and "Gesu Bambine." The choirs also performed a song under the accompaniment of a harpsichord, played by their student teacher. The jazz band played next, performing songs like, "Soul Mates," "Easy Does It," and "I Hear ya Talkin." These songs featured various solo performances. For a final performance the band played a medley from the Nutcracker. Also, for a final performance the Chamber Choir performed a song and dance routine to the popular Christmas carol "Deck the Halls." For a grand finale to the assembly, Santa Claus entered the gym full of spunk and paraded around the gym. He ran up and down the bleachers. He only stopped long enough to have a chat with Mr. Jerry Rouse about what he wanted for Christmas.

1. Band director Pat Rainor leads jazz band in a song called "Soul Mates." 2. Sophomore Tom Yarrington performs a saxophone solo to a song called "I Hear ya Talkin," during the December Christmas assembly. 3. Chamber Choir members Daphne Rigsby, B. J. Walsh, Michelle Hird, and Dena Ming perform a song and dance routine to "Deck the Halls." 6. The jazz band members perform a trumpet solo to music called "Easy Does It." 7. The combined choirs, under the direction of Mr. Jerry Rouse, sing a song titled "Carol of the Bells." 8. Combined choirs sing "Allelujah" at the December Christmas Assembly. 9. The crowd looks on as Santa Claus runs around the gym. 10. Santa Claus pauses for a moment to hear what Mr. Jerry Rouse wants for Christmas. 11. Band members Katie O'Donald, Kim Brenswick, Veronica Dougherty, and Diana Wolf perform a song titled "March of the Wooden Soldiers."



OSBORN, HEAVICAN PROMOTE E.T. SPIRIT

Pep assemblies, co-hosted this year by Pep Commissioners Monica Osborn and Barby Heavican, got off to a rousing start with a Mission Viejo football game assembly. In addition to the usual introducing of sports teams, the assembly was highlighted by a football team baby picture presentation. The loudest laughs were for Steve and Paul Svitenko bathing in the buff. A rare pool side assembly followed. Highlights included the announcing of the Homecoming nominees, a faculty-varsity waterpolo scrimmage and high dive leaps by Principal Don Walker and Dean of Students Terry Dazy. Spur of the moment dunkings of the pep commissioners and Damon Sweazy brought loads of applause. Perhaps the final appearance of El Toro's own drum corps highlighted the Homecoming assembly in early November.

Throughout the year the Chargette Drill Team performed precision and jazz routines to an appreciative Charger crowd. The energy level of both the varsity song and cheerleaders served to motivate the students, and get them more involved in the football games and other school activities.

1. Drill Team relaxes during the Homecoming assembly. 2. Monica Osborn and Barby Heavican start the class competition boat race during Homecoming nominee assembly. 3. Songleaders complete a routine at the Mission Viejo pep assembly. 4. Drum Major Rick Watson leads band members. 5. The Chargette Drill Team performs a routine to Hall and Oates' song "You Make My Dreams Come True." 6. Songleader Stacey Doss performs a routine at the assembly. 7. Upperclassmen join hands in the singing of the Alma Mater. 8. A crowd of rowdy freshmen cheer for their class during class competition. 9. The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders perform their routine at the second assembly. 10. Returning alumni drummers play for a last time at the Homecoming pep assembly. 11. Football captains Dave Hester and Steve Svitenko get the crowd riled up for the game.

A Christmas Rose Blooms in Anaheim

"A Christmas Rose" was the theme given this year's Christmas Formal sponsored by the Girls' League. The dance was held inside the Orange County Ballroom of the new Anaheim Marriot, December 25. The music was performed by Bo Donaldson and the Heywoods. Stacey Doss was crowned Queen by last year's recipient, Danielle devereaux.

1. Queen Stacey Doss with King Jim Miller. 2. Danielle Devereaux passes her crown to an excited Stacey Doss while senior princess princess Charon Turner looks on. 3. The Banner displays this year's theme. 4. The Christmas Formal Court: Sophomore Prince Bob Summers and Princess Micaela Daly; senior Prince Mike Fadich and Princess Charon Turner; Queen Stacey Doss and King Jim Miller; Senior Princess Barbie Heavican and Prince Vince Trollan; Junior Princess Kelly Mayer and Prince Jerry Eldridge. 5. Renee DePaul and her date Kerry Kim swing to the sounds of the band. 6. Some couples do away with formalities and show their wild side. 7. Mike Patnode and his date Joni Bragg watch the band from their table. 8. This table posed some smiles for the cameras while enjoying the music.

PAPA DOO RUN RUN STARTS '81 OFF BIG

The popular group Papa Doo Run Run, played for the successful Back to School Dance. The dance, which was held in the gym, lasted four hours. The group played popular surfing songs by the Beach Boys. The songs played included: "Surfing Safari," "California Girls," "Surfing U.S.A.," "I Get Around," and others. When the dance neared the end, the group played a medley of popular rock songs by the Doors, Moody Blues, Stones, and Led Zeppelin. The students really loved the dance. Also, students from Mission Viejo, and Laguna Hills High were invited to attend the dance.

1. El Toro students start off the year with a Back to School Dance, featuring the sounds of Papa Doo Run Run. 2. Members of the 60's sounding group, "Papa Doo Run Run" perform at the first dance. 3. Still wearing their summer wear, students dance to the sounds of surfin' music. 4. Eric Anderson dances the night away. 5. Renee De Paul enjoys herself while dancing 60's style. 6. EDUCATION CHIEF DR. W. RILES VISITS E.T.

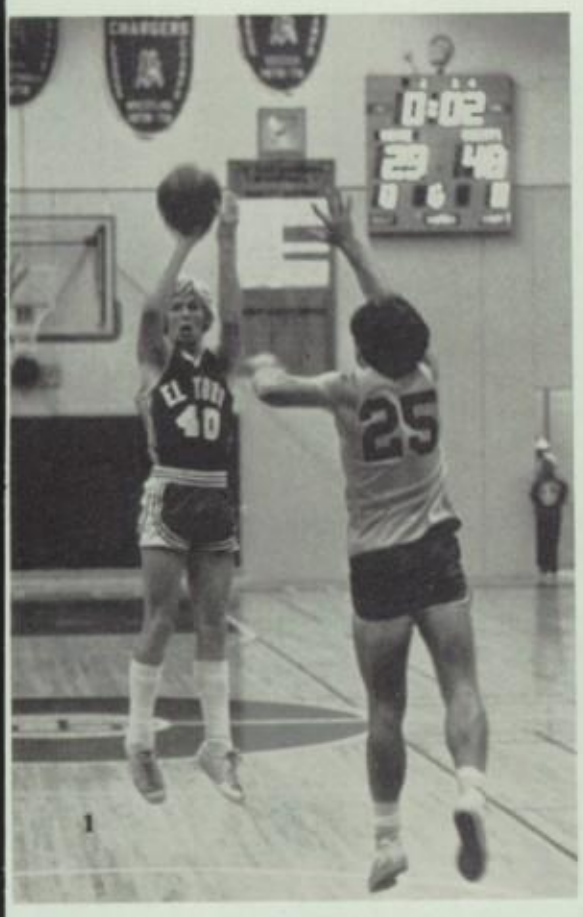
State Superintendent of Education Dr. Wilson Riles came to the school October 22 and was greeted by the Chargette Drill Team and the JROTC. Also there to greet him was A.S.B. President Nate Woods, and the Principal Donald Walker. First off, he was given a tour of the campus, then proceded to Charger Hall. In Charger Hall he spoke to the TRAIL and civics students, as part of the several success symposiums planned throughout the year. Afterwards, he visited room 306, home of English teacher Mrs. Sue Toibin, who won the honor of Orange County Teacher of the Year.

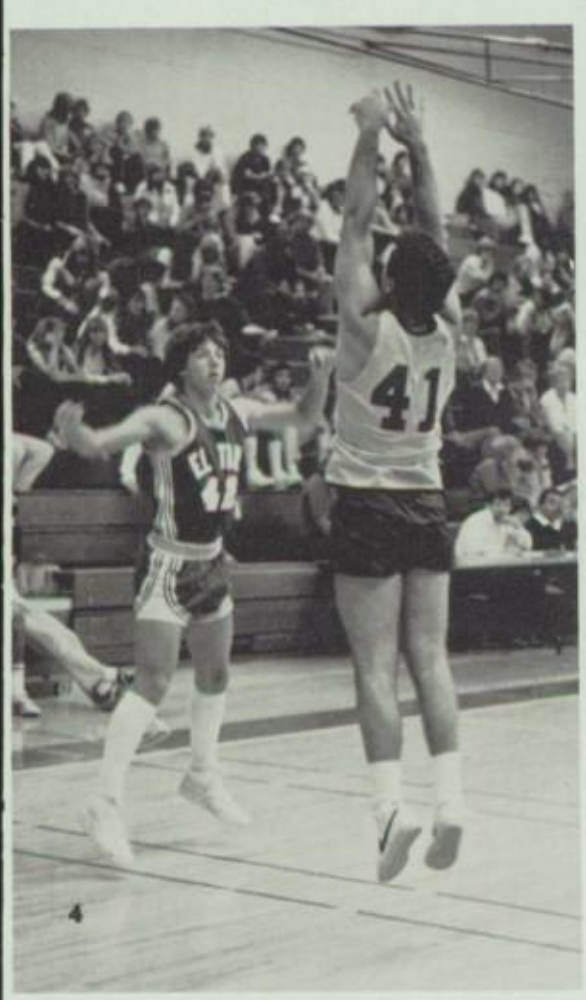
1. Dr. Wilson Riles arrives in El Toro's library to great an old pal, Ms. Dorothy Goldsmith. 2. Mr. Donald Walker and Dr. Wilson Riles discuss Riles' speech to the TRAIL students. 3. Drill Team is honored to greet Dr. Riles upon his arrival. 4. State Superintendent of Education, Dr. Wilson Riles, is interviewed by channel 50 during his visit to El Toro's campus.

BAND, DRILL TEAM TRAVEL TO RIVERSIDE

This fall, the El Toro Marching Band along with the Drill Team ventured to Riverside for the annual Lester Oakes Band Review. Each year schools from all around southern California take part in these competitions, displaying many different levels of precision and excellence. The Marching Band, under the skillful guidance of Street Competition Drum Major Jim Johnson, showed exactly that. The Drill Team claimed another well deserved trophy by placing second in the overall field competitions.

1. Mrs. Pat Reiner, Kim Boydston, and Mike Szeckley take a rest from their loading detail. 2. Drill team displays their enthusiasm over their newly awarded trophy. 3. Jim Johnson, Drum Major, reveals a tired gaze after a long day of competition. 4. A triumphant Glenna Henry marches to receive her trophy during the award ceremonies. 5. Drill team members take time out for some lunch and conversation. 6. The band stands ready and waiting for instructions from their Drum Major, Jim Johnson. 7. The Band and Drill Team advisors wait anxiously for the competition results.





FACULTY TRIUMPHS ONCE AGAIN

The student basketball teams suffered another defeat in the annual game against the faculty. The faculty never relinquished its lead throughout the entire game, wrapping it up, 64-55. The freshmen played the first quarter and were followed by the sophomore team in the second quarter. In the third and fourth quarters, the Varsity squad took the court and tried to make a come back, which proved to be unsuccessful. Proceeds from the ticket sales funded the purchase of a new glass backboard.

1. Sonny Lewis goes for the basket over the determined hands of Mr. Jerry Miller. 2. At the end of a long, arduous battle, opposition is met with a cordial handshake between Mr. Jeff Butler and Mark Matranga. 3. Mr. Mike Jagd overcomes player Kevin Cummings in an aerial battle for the ball. 4. Mr. Don Stoll struggles to block a shot from opponent Jim Hamill. 5. Mr. Jeff Butler is heavily guarded by Jeff Arnold as he drives his way toward the basket. 6. Shooting from the edge of the key, Sonny Lewis tries for additional points.

CHOIRS PERFORM HOLIDAY CONCERT

This year the choirs performed their annual Christmas Concert. It was held on December eighteenth, a week before Christmas vacation. The concert opened with all the choirs singing a song called, "Carol of the Bells." There were many individual groups that performed. Many of the songs contained fine solo performances by individual choir members.

1. Senior choir members Christine Fischer and Camilla Formica pose for a picture in the band room before their performance on stage. 2. Choir director Mr. Jerry Rouse directs the Concert Choir in a song titled "Ave Verrum." 3. Senior choir member Ron Sorensen gets the opportunity to direct the Concert Choir in a song called, "The Gift". 4. Concert Choir members Wendy Hurley, Natalie Roushe, and Lee Leiper leave the band room ready to go on stage and perform for the audience. 5. The Chamber Choir performs a musical skit to a song titled "A Christmas Rose," at the holiday performance. 6. The Chamber Choir performs their second musical skit for the audience to the popular Christmas carol, "Deck the Halls."

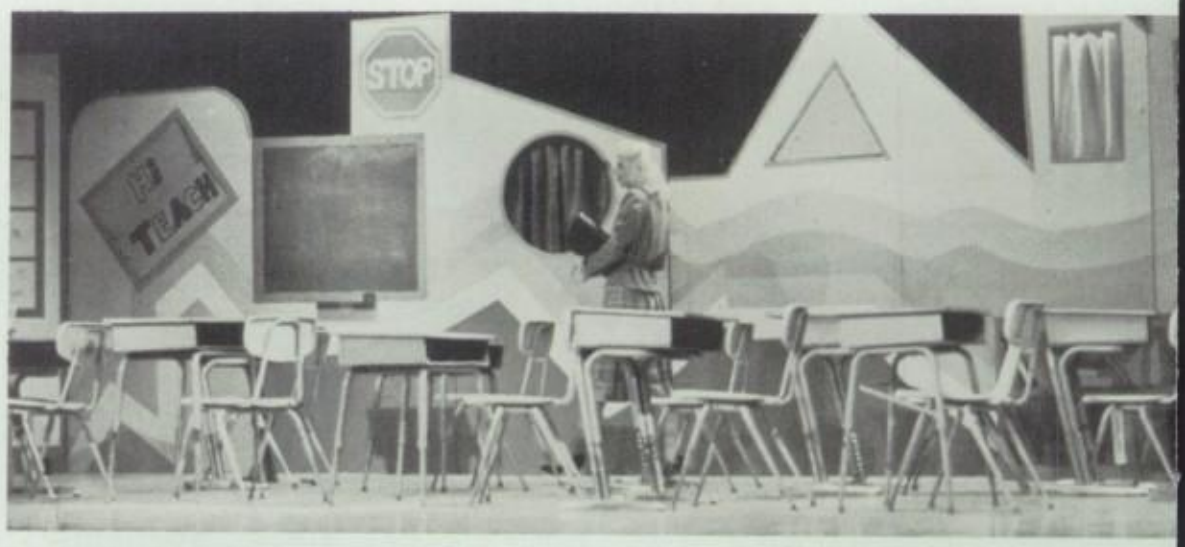
ORCHESTRA GIVES A HOLIDAY CONCERT

On December 19, the Orchestra, the Jazz Band, and the Marching Symphonic Band put on a special holiday concert. The Orchestra was first to perform that night playing songs such as "I'll Be Home For Christmas", and "Russian Sailor's Dance." Jazz Band had many solos to their credit. "New York, New York" featured Brian Bierking on the trumpet, "Soul Mates" featured Tom Daily on the trombone and Mark Petrish on the trumpet, and "Easy Does It" featured Tom Yarrington on the tenor saxaphone. The last performance was done by the Marching Symphonic Band who kept with the holiday spirit.

1. The orchestra plays harmoniously under the direction of Ms. Pat Rainer. 2. Cellist Mimi Verdier and Dawn Risk reveal their fixed concentration. 3. Roger Berger, the bass guitar player for the jazz ensemble, tunes his instrument before the performance. 4. Kim Boydston and Pam Sayer exhibit their talents as flutists. 5. Violinist Denise Carrillo keeps with the melody. 6. Freshman Mark Petrish performs a solo in a song titled "Soul Mates." 7. Saxaphone players Tom Osborn, Gary Berger, and Steve Tomas play their instruments with enthusiasm.

CALVIN COOLIDGE HI COMES TO E.T.

Drama III's production of "Up the Down Staircase" was in rehearsal for approximately eight weeks prior to their three night performances running from Thursday, November 19 through Saturday, November 21. Saturday night was a special night for the cast because of the exceptional turn-out including the presence of last year's alumni. The plot of the story dealt with the struggles of Sylvia Barrett, played by Kristie Perkins, and the suburban school system of Calvin Coolidge High. In her fight she managed to make an angry and frustrated student, played by Angel Caban, believe in himself.



1. Teacher, Kristie Perkins, enters her empty classroom before the morning bell. 2. The dean of Calvin Coolidge High Mr. McHabe, played by Ken Moody, confronts a rather sinister looking student played by Angel Caban. 3. Syliia Barrett (Kristie Perkins) engages in a heated conversation with Paul Barringer (B. J. Walsh) in the midst of class. 4. Alicea Blake (Cathy Ryan) seeks consolation from her teacher Miss Barrett. 5. Much to Miss Barrett's displeasure Sallie Williams (Kristin Watts) displays her prominent sassy nature to the entire class. 6. The class works diligently on the days assignment with the exception of the usual stragglers. 7. Miss Barrett contemplates her lesson plans for the following day. 8. Students line up in the customary way to have their homework checked by the teacher. 9. Miss Barrett reads a paper handed into her from a student while Elizabeth Ellis (Mary Weedman) and Carrie Blaine (Michele Conyers) listen. 10. Miss Barrett is put on the spot by Dean McHabe in hopes of solving Joe's (Angel Caban) problem. 11. A student expresses her opinionated views much to her teachers amazement. 12. Some students spend time before class catching up on the latest gossip. 13. Another day, another assignment. 14. TRIP TO SAN JOSE RESULTS IN TROPHY

This year, as every year, a select group of Drill Team members made their annual trip to San Jose to compete in the State Drill Team Competition. The trip lasted for five days. They spent the first day driving up to San Jose in the bus. The second day they went on the 17 mile drive out of Monterey, then back to San Jose High School for a two hour practice. Day three was spent touring San Francisco. The Drill Team members visited San Francisco's well known tourist spots like Pier 39, Ghirardelli Square, and Fisherman's Wharf. The fourth day was the big event: competition. The competition was held at Independence High School. After making finals the Drill Team had to wait for other high school drill teams to finish their performance. Once again the El Toro High School Drill Team performed their routines for a panel of judges, and after another long wait were awarded with a trophy naming them third in the state. There was also an individual competition and Junior Kelly Morgan got placed first in the state.

1. The Drill Team warms up for their performance by doing stretching exercises. 2. Drill Team member Mi Kim takes a ride with friends through Pier 39 in San Francisco. 3. The performing Drill Team members finish up their preliminary routine to "We Got the Beat," by the Go-Go's. 4. Kirsta Tierney, Mr. Terry Dazey, Laura Lappin and Mi Kim pose for a picture taken in front of Monterey Bay. 5. During the Drill Teams stay in San Jose, they visited the ever popular, "Fisherman's Wharf," of San Francisco. 6. The Drill Team begins their competition routine in the preliminaries to music by Rush, and a song titled, "Hooked on Classics." 7. A group of Drill Team members have their picture taken posing in the center of Ghirardelli Square. 8. the final pose in the preliminary routine to music by the Go-Go's. 9. DONKEY BASKET-BALL RIDES AGAIN

Keeping with their tradition the faculty once again succeeded in beating the Key Club during this year's annual Donkey Basketball game. The purpose of this game was to raise money for Key Club community projects. There was a good turn out of family, friends and students. The game started off on a slow foot, with Mr. Mike Waddell on a very stubborn donkey. The first two quarters maintained a steady score. Key Club sweetheart Karen Seeberg came in the third qwarter to assist her fellow team members. The battle picked up in the fourth quarter with outstanding plays made by Key Club President, Tim Baynam. The score was neck and neck up to the last thirty seconds when the faculty gained control of the ball and shot the winning basket wrapping the game up with a final score of 34-36.

1. Coach Keith Osborn gets support from his faithful companion after a tough game. 2. Mr. Jerry Miller shows his terrific trick riding abilities never before seen in public. 3. All Mr. Mike Waddell needs to do is give him a little kick in the sides and he'll be off, hopefully. 4. Key Club has a good handle on the action at their end of the court. 5. Steve Legrand dominates the jump for the ball over Mr. Mike Waddell. 6. Mr. Bob Bosank gallops onto the scene with the determination to score some points. 7. Mr. Mike Waddell experiences some minor transportation difficulties. 8. In a scramble at the basket, Mr. Fred VanLeuven struggles to block Jim Christian's dive for the ball held by Mr. Bob Bosanko. 9. There's the perfect set up for the perfect shot but where is the ball? 10. Jim Christian makes a last effort to obstruct Mr. Jerry Miller's attempt at the basket. 11. Key Club Sweetheart Karen Seeberg displays her ability at the basket as Ms. Diane Osterhues zooms in to get the rebound. 12. Mr. Jerry Miller, up at the net once again, bears a hopeful expression on his face while Ms. Diane Osterhues ducks the shot. 13. Mr. Fred VanLeuven and Mr. Bob Bosanko resort to tackle tactics in order to pry the ball from Jim Christian's hands.

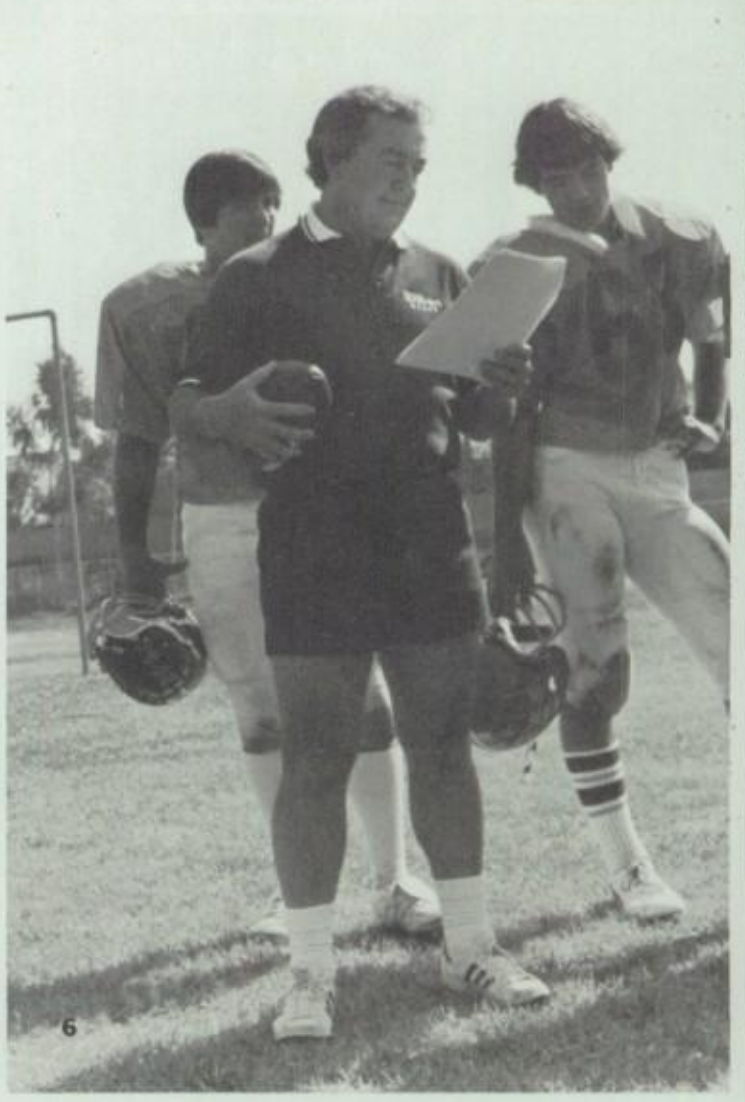
EL TORO WELCOMES FOOTBALL'S FINEST

Though not widely publicized it did not take long for news of the arrival of O. J. Simpson and Vic Braden on campus to hit the student body. The main purpose for their visit however was not to sign autographs. They were here to film a commercial for Wilson Sporting Goods promoting the new autographed football of O. J. Simpson. The commercial took most of the day to shoot. After they were done, O. J. Simpson threw some passes with varsity football players before leaving.

1. Taking time out for some coffee, O. J. Simpson and tennis pro Vic Braden discuss the morning's commercial shooting. 2. With cameras and equipment in place, the crew works out some last minute details with the script. 3. O. J. Simpson prepares himself for a third take in front of the cameras. 4. The sound engineers work hard to make everything as sound as possible. 5. Getting ready to throw a pass to waiting students, O. J. Simpson shows a cheerful grin. 5. Vic Braden goes over his lines while varsity football players Steve Svintenko and Dave MacDonald anxiously wait for filming.



SOCIAL BENEFITS TRIP TO SAN JOSE

Once again this year, the Drill Team held their annual Ice Cream Social fund raiser. The purpose of this fund raiser was to raise money to help send part of the Drill Team to San Jose, to compete in the state drill down. The entire Drill Team participated in the social, but only a select group of top performers were chosen to compete in the competition. There was a great turn out of family and friends. After everyone was served and seated, the flag and Drill Team performed routines and the band played some of their songs.

1. First year Drill Team member Tammy Kaminski serves hot fudge to the people as they move down the line. 2. After everyone has gotten his ice cream, the Drill Team performs one of their competition routines to the song, "You Make My Dreams Come True". 3. The flag team performs their routine to "Hello, Again", before the Drill Team goes on. 4. Sophomore Amy Lawton stops and talks to her friends during the Ice Cream Social. 5. The marching band performs one of their songs at the Ice Crem Social to benefit the San Jose trip.

E.T.H.S. DONATES RECORD 161 PINTS

This years blood drive held on April 9, 1982 was a great success. Cathie Nokes was the chairperson of this annual event, helped by the ASB Council, Key Club, custodian staff, and the library staff. A record 161 pints of blood was donated this year a 100% increase from last year's drive. Out of 192 people that showed, 31 were deferred for such reasons as not weighing enough, or having recently been on medication. The ASB Council was happy with the total involvement with all the people. The Red Cross expressed special thanks to the students and staff for their cooperation and courtesy.

J.R.O.T.C. members practice a regulation drill.

The variety of clubs offered at El Toro High School this year was greater than ever before. Every student had different interests, so naturally the diversity of organizations had to be great. There were clubs for everyone; music lovers enjoyed the bands and orchestra, as well as a new club called the Skippy Club, which offered dancing and concert enjoyment during lunchtime with sixties music. The dance department also added a new level, beginning dance, a class that opened the dancer up to the fundamentals without the concern of performances. Service clubs, such as the International Key Club and Keywanettes, were also represented at El Toro. Special interest groups included the German Club as well as the Coin and Stamp Club and the Surf Club, both new this year. For those students who were just itching to show their creative side, El Toro's publications: Ole, Amanecer and Touch Our World, dealt them their chance.

GIRLS' LEAGUE SPONSORS FORMAL

The Girls' League this year was advised by Miss Cheryl Webb and Mrs. Kim Wilkerson. The purpose of the club was to unite all the girls of El Toro High School. Every Friday, the girls met in room 405 for a meeting during lunch. At these meetings they planned the activities that took place during the year. One of these activities was El Toro's Christmas Formal, "A Christmas Rose". The officers this year were President Charon Turner, Vice President Jennifer Walsh, Secretary Denise Carrillo, Treasurer Stella Kim, Friendship Officer Christine Watt, Communications Director Esther Whang, Publicity Chairman Dana Frary, and Activities Commissioner Karen Turner.

BANDS STRIVE TO PLEASE LISTENERS

The two lower performing bands this year were Jazz Ensemble and Orchestra, both of which were directed by Mrs. Pat Rainer and had a busy year. Throughout the year, these groups performed at special assemblies and held special concerts for parents and friends in Charger Hall. The Jazz Band started the year with the Christmas Assembly and the Holiday Concert. They attended two Jazz Festivals this year, one in Burbank and one in Corona. In March, a few of the members participated in the musical West Side Story. Orchestra also started the year out with the Christmas Assembly and Holiday Concert. But they also performed at the Mission Viejo Mall in December. They were invited to perform at Phi Delta Kappa in February, and in March, the whole Orchestra played in West Side Story. To end the year, both Jazz Ensemble and Orchestra did their annual performance in May at the Anaheim Convention Center.

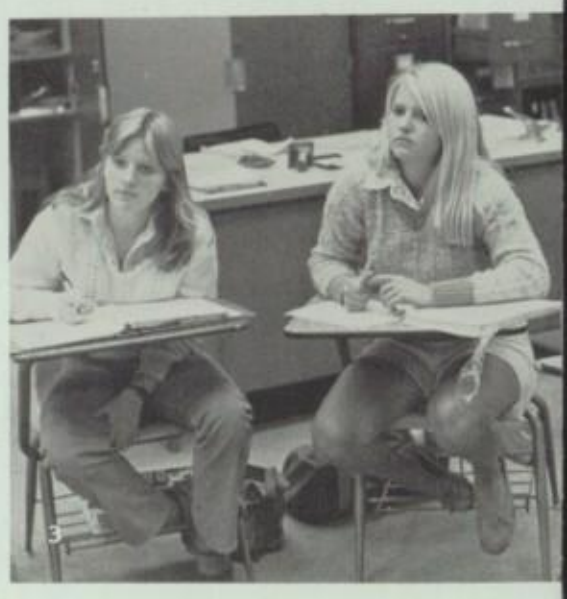
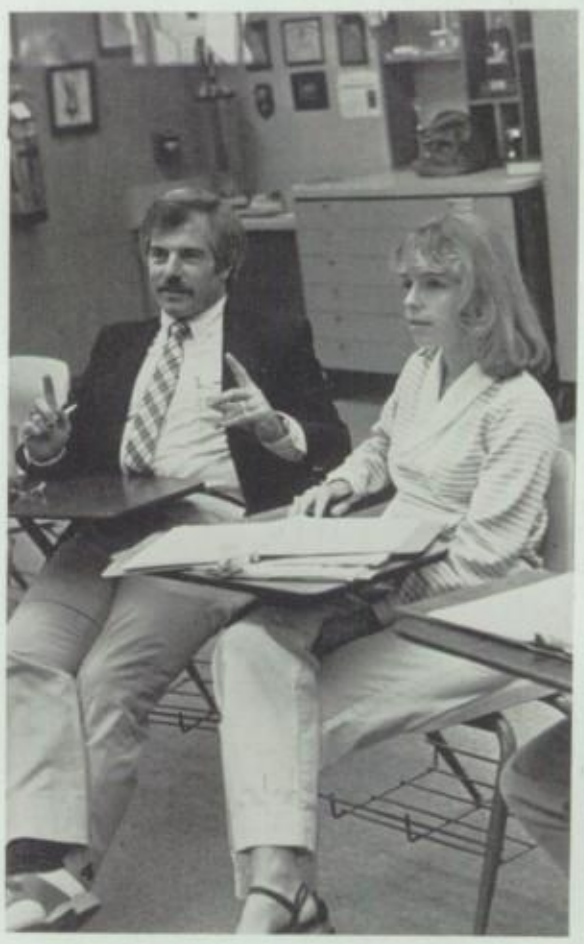
STUDENTS LEND AN EAR TO TROUBLES

One of the newest clubs on campus this year was the Peer Faciltators, headed by Mr. Tim Allen, Mrs. Sue Tobin, and Mr. Phil Samuels. The members were a counseling center extension, and helped students with problems. In the beginning of the year the members completed a 20-hour training program to develop counseling skills. The purpose of the club was to provide a self-help opportunity for the teenagers with problems. The members of the Peer Facilitators had three specific roles: to give support to kids new to El Toro, provide individual help for problems, and get the person involved in group "rap" sessions. The members had to be sensitive to when to send the students to counselors at El Toro. El Toro's Peer Facilitators extended a hand to all of Saddleback Valley. They visited elementary and junior high schools and provided activities, events, and small group discussions. Some of the things discussed had to do with alcoholism, divorce, and family problems. In January, the Peer Facilitators did a skit for an elementary school and afterwards sat down and talked to the children about the skit, and what problems the children had seen in it. The Peer Facilitators main purpose was to "help to cope".





1 — Peer Facilitators — Top row: Pat Covington, and Mr. Phil Samuels. Second row: Shelly Karsten, Jawon Shin, Stacey Runyon, Fred Knight, Liza Baziak, Michele Lofton, and Kelly Donahue. CIF Officers: Secretary Angie Hobson, Treasurer Won You, Vice President Kim Glasgow, and President Steve Lutsky. 6. Mrs. Hotchkiss explains the details to Steve Lutsky and Won You.

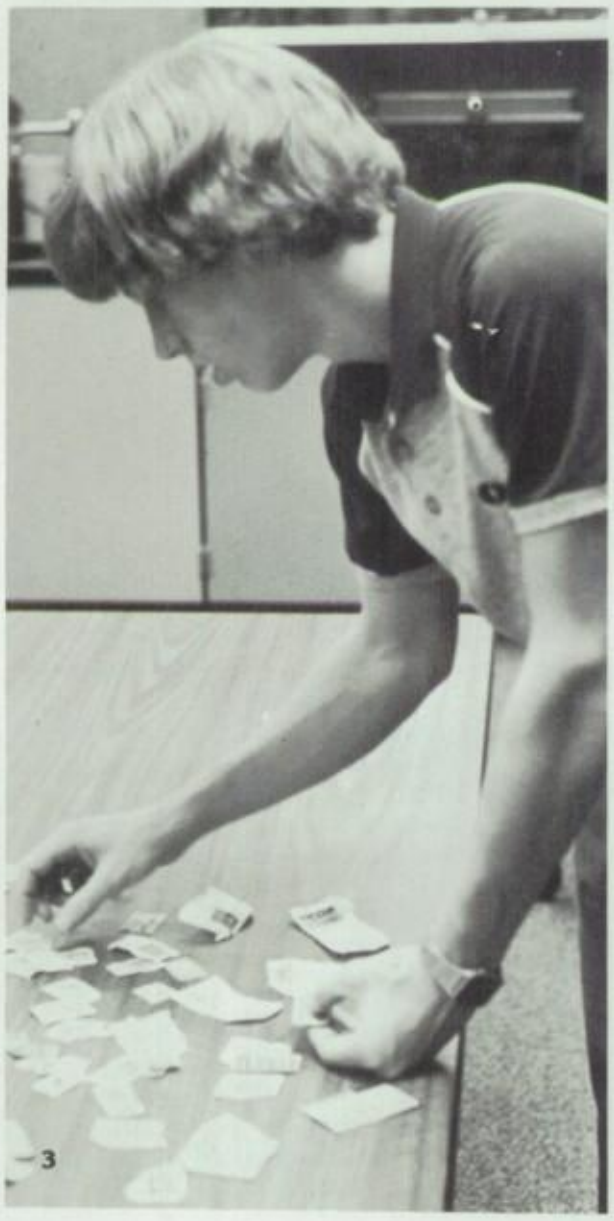
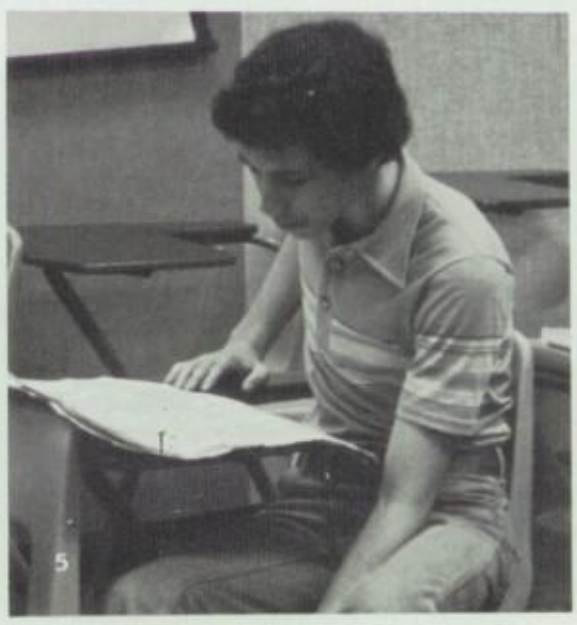
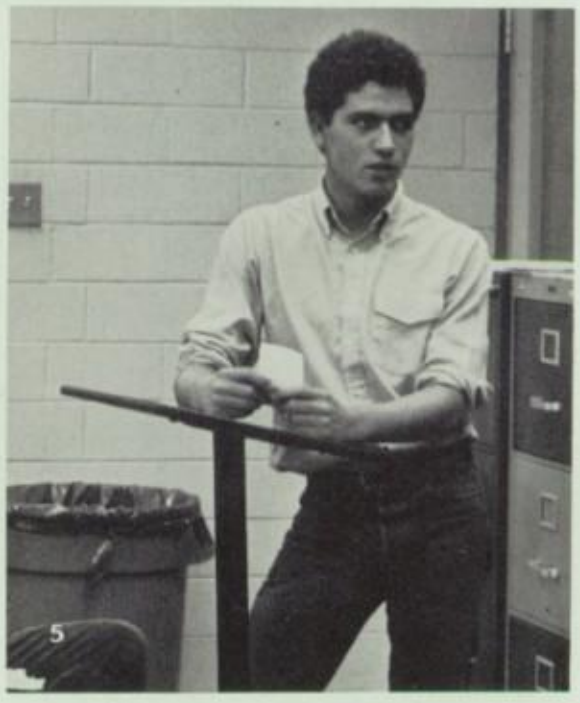
COIN AND STAMP ATTEND SHOWINGS

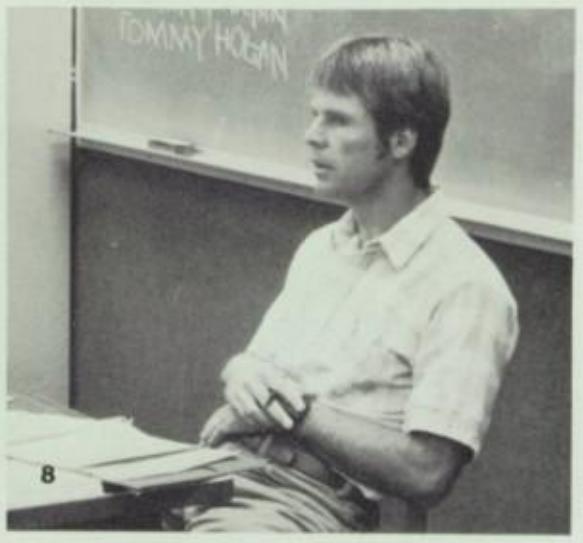
The purpose of the Coin and Stamp Club was to teach the members about coins and stamps; both as hobbies and investments. The advisors were Mr. Jerry Miller and Mr. Chuck Vicker. During the meetings they had guest speakers, who were experts in coins and stamps, and exchanged foreign stamps and coins. Almost monthly they attended Coin and Stamp shows. The meetings each week alternated between coins and stamps.

1 — Coin and Stamp — Top Row: Frank Chiricosta, Derek Cha, and Joe Wilhelm. Second row: Mr. Chuck Vicker, David Lipin Shawn Wilson, and Bettina Hauck. Front row: David Lin, Tae You, Lance Niederhaus and Nolvia Arnesto. 2 — Mr. Vicker explains about the wide variety of coins and stamps 3 — Joe Wilhelm examines the many foreign stamps brought for exchange by the club members. 4 — Chris James and Frank Chiricosta peruse a book on foreign coins and stamps. 5 — Frank Chiricosta looks through the newspaper to find the price of certain coins and stamps. 6 — Lance Niederhaus looks up from matching coins and prices during a meeting.









SURF CLUB DEBUTS WITH MANY ACTIVITIES

The Surf Club members this year were advised by Mr. Tom Curry, and were members of the National Scholastic Surfing Association. They held interclub contests and the top 12 surfers competed against other schools starting with a competition in December. From there, they competed monthly and held social get-togethers. Also during the year, they held numerous campouts at various beaches. Leader of the club this year was Senior Sam Pepke.

A.S.B. COUNCIL GUIDES STUDENTS

The Associated Student Body Council, headed by Mr. Keith Sims, promoted spirit in the student body this year at assemblies, pep rallies, spirit week and class competition. Their goal this year was to provide leadership and government for the school, along with encouraging academic activities and ensuring unity. The motto, as in the past, was "To Build a Brighter Future". At all times the Council was working toward their goal.

MARCHING BAND DISPLAYS EXCELLENCE

The El Toro High School Marching Band was directed by Ms. Pat Rainer and showed excellence in every performance. They won first place in the first parade, which was Garden Grove. Following in October was the Artesia and Lester Oaks Band Reviews. Also during October was the La Mirada Field Show and Tournament in which the band won sweepstakes. In November, they participated in the Mission Viejo Band Review. They had many other shows, reviews, and tournaments, in which they won many awards in during the course of the year. The Band performed regularly at home game half-time shows with the Drill Team and Pageantry. They also played at many varsity events.

CHAMBER CHOIR PERFORMS OFTEN

Chamber Choir, directed by Mr. Jerry Rouse, was the highlight of quite a few musical performances this year. These talented students were chosen out of many hopefuls to be a part of this group, the most distinguished choir group on campus.

To kick off the year they performed eight concerts for the Laguna Hills Leisure World. Following were the Villa Valencia, El Toro High School, and Palm Springs Aeriel Tramway concerts in December. The entire month of March was devoted to the musical, "West Side Story." In April the Chamber choir had their big concert, where the new members were announced and the alumni sang "Beautiful City." Also in April they performed again for Leisure World. In May they attended and performed in the annual Anaheim Convention Center show with all the other schools from the Saddleback Valley. During the year they also performed many shows for the junior high and elementary schools.

The group was noted for its superb mixing of choreography with fine singing. The choreography was done by the group itself, with the help of Rouse and Mrs. Karen Legome. Returning members were B. J. Walsh, Ron Sorenson, Kristine Eachus, Camilla Formica, Christine Fisher, Rande Crissinger, Fred Knight and Joe Toussant.

VARSITY CHEER STIRS UP SPIRIT

This year's Varsity Cheerleaders, headed by Ms. Debbie Fletcher, attended all football games to promote school spirit and give incentive to the players. In fact, promoting school spirit was the main reason for cheerleading. The signs that appeared at various times of the year in the upper and lower quads were usually of the cheerleader's doing. They took part in planning and presenting assemblies, served at team and club dinners, helped at open houses, and, most of all, attended all sports games, mostly football and basketball. The cheerleaders went to a camp at the University of Southern California at San Diego, where they competed and won many awards. Also during the year, they competed with all the other schools in the community at the Mission Viejo Mall.

SONG EXHIBITS NUMEROUS TALENTS

This year's El Toro High School Songleaders, advised by Ms. Debbie Fletcher, worked hard to represent ETHS. They met every day during third period to practice routines for the football games and to make plans for their participation in school-related events. The Songleaders were Dana Strabic, Elizabeth Tillis, Camilla Formica, Charmaine Castillo, Kelly Havens, Kelly Mayer, Stacey Doss, and Mona Leung. At pep assemblies, they regularly did routines to pop music. Like the Cheerleaders, their job was to promote spirit and enthusiasm to the student body. Along with the cheerleaders, they performed regularly at all the varsity football, basketball, and other sports games. Many times they helped to make the signs that appeared on campus promoting the games.

SAILING TEAM IS ALWAYS ACTIVE

The El Toro Sailing Club, advised by Mr. David Johnson, was part of the Saddleback Valley branch of the South Coast Sailing Team. They sailed regularly on Thursdays after school and on Saturdays from 1:00 to 5:00. The sailing on Saturdays included racing, free sails and boat maintenance. The students earned "swabby" hours, which were credit toward trips. Over the summer they had a fundraiser by selling fireworks in San Clemente at one of the stands. In October, the Sailing Club had an extended trip to Catalina Island. The club had a 1981 Rendezvous in November, where they had competition and comaraderie. In the spring, they held their annual Bike-a-Thon. This year's club sailed on Lido 14 Lasers and Windsurfer sailboats.

YEARBOOK DEALS OUT WINNING HAND

The El Toro Amanacer Staff, advised by Mr. Mike Gallups this year, worked hard to put out a 304 page yearbook. Each member had their own section or shared with one other person. They learned how to handle responsibility, make layouts, write body copy and captions, crop pictures, and work together under the stressful times of deadlines. The students also solicited ads from the businesses of the surrounding community to help meet the cost of the book. Many hours were spent at lunch and after school working on the pages of the El Toro yearbook.

During the 1981-82 school year the athletic department offered 20 different sports. The "20 Card Studs" taught many participants how to lose as graciously as to win, that winning is important, but having fun was the main objective.

Under the supervision of boys' and girls' athletics advisors Rich Alderson and Sherri Ross, El Toro's athletes proved themselves to be among the best in the county. CIF was commonly heard around campus this year, and it was not unusual for the majority of teams, or individual members of the teams to go into post season play. Quite a few outstanding players for from the various sports were chosen to become members of the All-Sea View League Teams.

Besides the honor of many teams going into CIF playoffs, many senior athletes received the athletic scholorships they'd been working so hard to attain. Two of El Toro's female athletes, Tracy Clark and Leslie Devereaux, were also asked to become members of the U.S. Women's Olympic volleyball team. This was not only a great honor to these two young women, but also to El Toro High School as well.

Even though the competition is tough, El Toro High School's athletes worked hard and were successful at meeting their goals. All the athletes worked as a unit to help El Toro's athletic department to play its hand full of "Aces."

"20 CARD STUDS"

FOOTBALL CAPTURES LEAGUE TROPHY

The '81-'82 Charger Varsity Football team got off to a rough start this year. With only fifteen returning lettermen they lost the first three pre-season games, but came back to finish the season with six league wins and one loss. This was the fourth straight year that the team has made it to the C.I.F. playoffs. It was the first year that they made it to the second round of playoffs.

After the season was over an awards banquet was held to recognize the outstanding players of the year The outstanding defensive players were Steve Svitenko, Brett Trickett, Bob Lopez, Dave Hester and Shawn Cardin. The oustanding offensive players of the year were Damon Sweazy, Scott Hoth, Dave MacDonald, Paul Svitenko, Louis Sargeant and Trent Fouts. The Coaches' Award went to senior Steve Svitenko. VARSITY ATTENDS RELAY MEETS

This year's Girls' Varsity Swim Team was coached by Miss Sherri Ross, who helped the swimmers develope their ability as the season progressed. They attended Relay Invitationals as well as regular ones. In the Relay Invitationals, it was a dual swim meet, no individual events and the boys and girls earned points collectively to get an overall score for the team. Trophys were given to fifth place at these meets. The returning members on the team were Helen Garvey, Laura Cohen, Tharine Rudon, Barbara Coffman, Janet Williams, Dana Barnes, Stephanie Parker, and Patty Makens. The girls practiced an average of five hours a day, two in the morning before school and three after school. Their main goals were to win league and improve their skills both as a team and individually.

GIRLS' SWIMMING COMPETES REGULARLY

This year's girls' frosh-soph team was coached by Ms. Sherri Ross and practiced for nearly five hours a day. They competed in both regular and relay invitationals during the year. Some of the girls swam on the J.V. team, which was a mixture of boys' and girls' frosh-soph and varsity teams.

VARSITY SOCCER KICKS INTO C.I.F.

Coming to an end of the season the girls' varsity soccer team finished with an overall record of 16-3 and second place in Sea View League. The captains of the team were seniors Lyn Callahan and Chantal Spicher. The most outstanding plays were Terri Bryson, Callahan and Tino Phillips. The most improved players were Juan Shin and Rebecca Martinez. The girls' team was ranked tenth in C.I.F. Southern Division and possessed the two fastest forwards Phillips and Terri Focht.

1. Captain, Lyn Callahan works hard moving the ball down the field. 2. Senior Margie Owens makes an outstanding kick and eludes defenders. 3. Varsity Soccer — Top Row: Debbie Johnson, Monique Brass, Terri Bryson, Chelle Pell, Denise Kirshenaran, Maureen Kiernan, Caren Carlson, Lyn Callahan, Regina Gabaldon and Coach Mary Rausch Front Row: Terri Focht, Juan Shin, Rebecca Martinez, Margie Owens, Tino Phillips, Kirsten Stallcup, and Natalie Rausch. 4. J.V. TEAM SETS NEW SEASONAL STATISTICS

The 1982 girls' junior varsity soccer team finished with a 6-5 record with one tie, and a second place in league. The team was directed by Miss Patty Morita. Each week, one girl was chosen to be captain of the game. The most valuable player was freshman Cindy Morton. The most improved player was Freshman Laurie Conway. The team's goals were to improve its standings in league and to work on its skills and fundamentals of soccer.

1. Sophomore Cynthia Holmes makes a fantastic kick for another goal against Corna Del Mar 2. Freshman Cindy Morton struggles to get the ball before her opponent. 3. Lorraine Hernandez runs to the other side of the field where the action is. 4. Sophomore Sally Tanner waits patiently for the ball to be passed to her. 5. Goalie Karen Stroup kicks to her open teammate. Junior Varsity Soccer — Top Row: Coach Patty Morita, Lorriaine Hernandez, Julie Montelone, Sally Tanner, Sharron Carroll, Laura Steele, Laura Blanchard, Tempest Jones and Karen Stroup. Front Row: Erin Hegle, Rochelle DeAvita, Laura Conway, Cynthia Holmes, Cindy Morton and Kris Nusenow.

FACE CARDS

SENIOR OFFICERS INSPIRE STUDENTS

The Class of 1982 was an inspiration to the future graduating classes of El Toro High. Their admirable ingenuity, boundless energy, and exemplary attitude have made this class the class to beat!

Their junior year was distinguished by a Spirit Week victory over their rival, the Class of 1981.

As seniors, they were again successful during Spirit Week. The week began with Baby Day; the senior hall was playfully decorated in the theme of "Sesame Street," complete with Big Bird, Bert, and Ernie. In the spirit of tradition, the seniors "artfully covered" the school with a reported 2000 rolls of toilet paper. Afterwards, everyone met for a pleasant breakfast at iHop. Upon returning to school the seniors resumed a full day of classes. During lunch, however, they regressed to childish frolic and frivolity, much to the adulation of the underclassmen.

Past presidents, Diana DeRobertis and Amy Cheshire got the seniors started off on the right foot.

JUNIOR CLASS ORGANIZES PROM

The junior class of 1981-1982 dressed in the traditional 50's Day costume for Spirit Week, but they also added something new. One hundred fifty spirited juniors attended a breakfast get-together at Jo Jo's that morning before the active day started. Another event the juniors participated in was the Powder Puff Football Game. The class of '83 organized the Junior-Senior Prom. It was held in the California Plaza inside Movieland Wax Museum. The representatives for the junior class were Joe Muklevicz, president; Holly Larsen, vice-president; Melissa Osborn, treasurer; Anne Curry, secretary.

TENTH GRADERS RE-LIVE SIXTIES

The sophomore class was led by a very spirited group of officers. President Cindie Hamm, Vice President Kim Russell, Secretary Stefanie Mayer and Treasurer Kris Mink represented the class of '84. Dressed in sixties attire, the sophomore class finished second overall in class competition. Much of this success was due to the well organized activities of the officers. The sophomores, along with the freshmen class, planned the Sadie Hawkins dance which was held on March 6. This years advisors for the class of '84 were Ms. Marsha Daerr and Ms. Carolyn Hanna.

This year's academic programs were many and varied. In these Aces, as the Amanecer prefers to call the academic programs, students showed much enthusiasm and interest in the courses offered. Among the many courses offered were special classes that were designed to meet the needs of special kinds of students. These classes were as diverse as the CROP program and the Academic Decathlon. They encompassed such things as interscholastic competition as well as on the job training.

1. CROP student Mandi Larsen jokes with her classmates. 2. Trail student Rita Kulajian takes another career aptitude tea test to help her plan her future. 3. Brad Finney takes some notes before beginning his training in the CROP program. 4. Rita Kulajian, Terry Hagstrom and Michelle Buck compare answers to a Trail aptitude test. 5. Ms. Cheryl Beck assists Michael Diaz in preparing for the competency tests. 6. Trail student John Tessier looks through books concerning career choices and objectives. 7. Christi Lemmons attends a meeting to prepare herself for her CROP class. 8. Mr. Daugherty assists Kelly Carrlson to prepare for the competency tests. 9. Steve Haddock takes a lecture notes in his Advanced Placement History class; this class will prepare him to take the Advanced Placement test in history. 10. Gigi Enos takes a break from her job as a resource person. 11. Jennifer Walsh listens closely to directions given to her before beginning the Academic Decathalon. 12. Advanced Placement teacher Mr. Tom Barnes explains the class procedures to his students.

ACES

C.R.O.P. STUDENTS LEARN SKILLS

CROP, The Coastline Regional Occupational Program, was an occupational training program that allowed career minded students to gain knowledge and on the job experience in a certain field. Classes were held at local businesses and high schools within the five school district region. The types of classes varied widely, from agriculture to technical illustration and almost everything in between.

A word processing class was held on campus. It prepared students for careers in the business office and word processing fields. It taught students skills in operating transcribing and word processing machines, IBM memory typewriters and other office equipment. Mrs. Kathy Russell, CROP technician, helped students to select the career field best suited to them. Students attended classes between six and twelve hours a week and earned from five to fifteen credits per semester. Classes provided initial classroom instruction and on the job experience. With successful completion of the class a student received a Certificate of Participation and possibly a Letter of Recommendation.

1. Diana Peters works with a word processor in CROP class. 2. Chris Larsen takes a pause during CROP class. 3. Karl Lorenzen programs a word processing machine. 4. Tammy Winslow types in CROP word processing class. 5. CROP technician Mrs. Kathy Russell smiles while checking her files. 6. In word processing class, Maria Fadel smiles for the photographer. 7. Cindy Blose takes notes in fashion merchandising class. 8. Brad Finney intently listens to teacher make a point. 9. Shelly Vickers enjoys CROP class. 10. Cindy Blose, Jodee Stewart and Shelly Vickers talk before class begins. 11. Jodee Stewart goes over her notes while in class. 12. Christi Lemmons gets on the job training at Robinson's department store in Mission Viejo.

TRAIL, Tapping Real Abilities through Investigative Learning, was a career oriented, educational program involving GATE students in real world experiences in different career fields. It involved business, community and the school to provide comprehensive career education to gifted students. Ms. Margo Harrison was project director, Mr. Jack Oakes was career counselor and Mrs. Peggy Corich was secretary. Ms. Sally Hotchkiss taught the English Honors Seminar class to some TRAIL students. The class stressed advanced thinking and study skills. The TRAIL program held a community laboratory in November when they visited Fluor in Irvine to involve Fluor with the TRAIL program. Students were then placed at the business to gain professional experience in the career field that interests them.

In October Dr. Wilson Riles, California Superintendent of Education, came to speak at a TRAIL Success Symposium. He delivered an inspirational speech encouraging students to try hard at everything they do and that they can do anything if they want.

FEDERAL GRANT STARTS PROGRAM

El Toro High School received a $70,000 federal grant for Getting to Know You, the Cognative Pathway to Intercultural Relations, for the 1981-1983 school years. The guidelines for the program were set down by Mr. Bill Rollins, Mrs. Dorothy Goldsmith, Mr. Jim Utt, Mr. Paul Beidler and Mr. Tony Corrente. The purpose of the program was to promote better relations between cultures by making the students aware of how the different cultures are part of American society and to dispel any traditional prejudices. It is taught to all world culture classes.

1. Damon Mann, Mike Stetson and Tony Baynard intently listen to a lecture by a guest speaker. 2. Mr. Paul Beidler lectures to students during a media presentation. 3. Mr. Joe Tran, a guest speaker, gives a lecture to a world cultures class. 4. Guest speaker Mr. Joe Tran from the Orange County Department of Housing and Community Development delivers an informative lecture. 5. Michelle Vance and Lisa Cass listen with interest to speaker make a point.

ADVANCED CLASSES LEARN MORE

The Advanced Placement U.S. History class, one of the accelerated programs for the student who wanted to learn more and possibly prepare for taking the Advanced Placement Test, was offered two periods a day. Students may also prepare for the test in other advanced classes. By taking the Advanced Placement Test students could possibly earn college credits. Mr. Tom Barnes taught the year long class in much the same way a college class would be taught.

The rigorous course of study involved students in many activitiees concerning the history of this country. Students wrote detailed research papers and also wrote historical papers based on the original sources.

1. Mr. Tom Barnes lectures about early American history to his class. 2. Anne Curry works on homework in class. 3. Ed Kerley listens with interest to Mr. Barnes' lecture. 4. Mindy Cherri asks Mr. Barnes a question about an assignment. 5. Kurt Davis concentrates during a lecture.

EL TORO HOSTS ACADEMIC DECATHLON

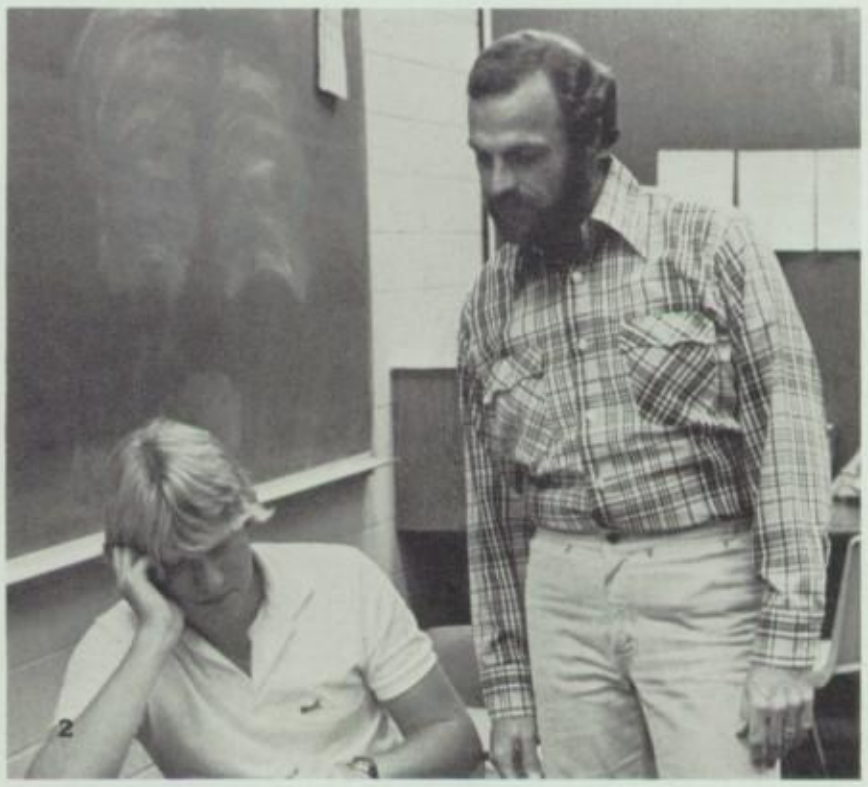
The Orange County Academic Decathlon was held on November 14 to promote academic excellence through competition. The team consisted of seniors Larry Hughes, Chantall Spicher-Piel, Colleen Cansler, juniors Jennifer Walsh, John Tessier and Lisa Baziak. They were coached by Mr. Bill Bailey and Mr. Jim Shields. Some team members received individual awards: Colleen Cansler, a first place in fine arts and a second place in English literature; Jennifer Walsh received second places in speech and interview and John Tessier earned a first place in speech and a third place in English literature.

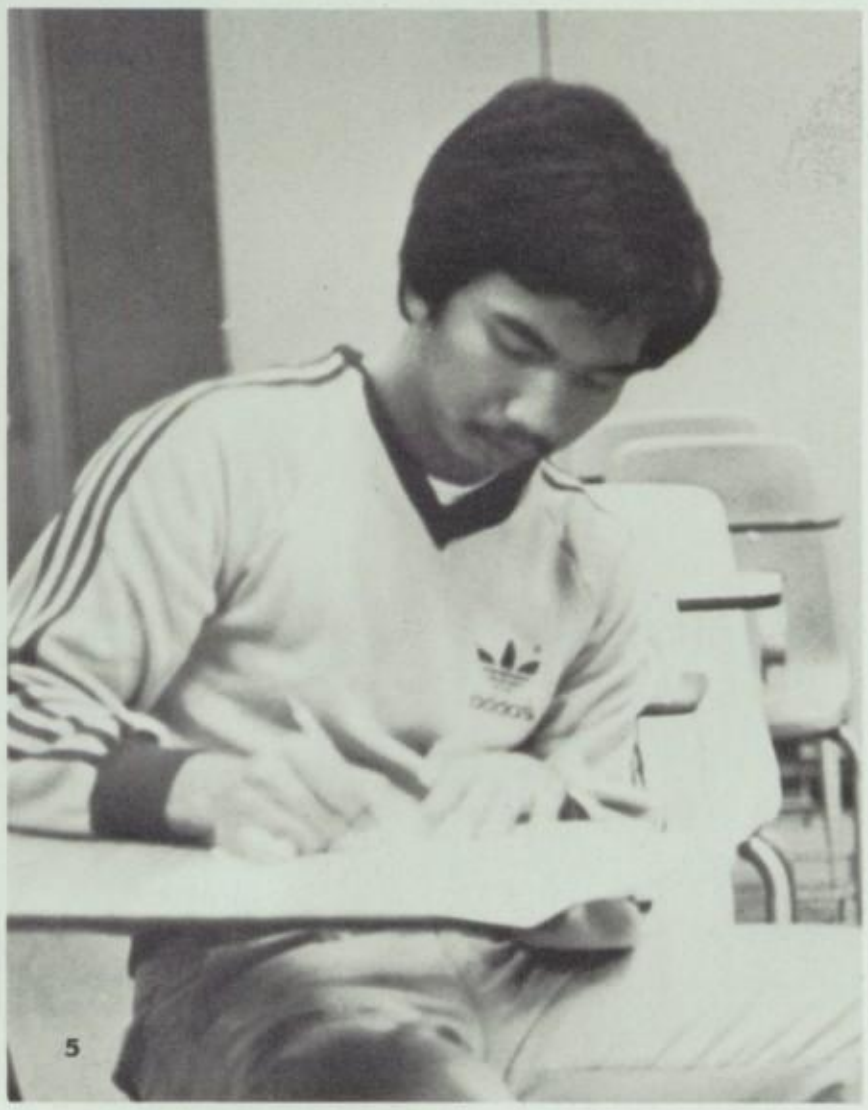
1. Mr. Jim Shields, Mr. Al Desmarais and Jennifer Walsh discuss El Toro's point standings. 2. Jennifer Walsh smiles after she scores a point in the Super Quiz. 3. Chantal Spicher-Piel listens intently to a question being asked. 4. John Tessier writes out his answer to a question asked. 5. Larry Hughes concentrates as a question is being read. 6. The event received media coverage by local newspapers and public TV.

HELP CLASSES ASSIST CHARGERS

Competency Help Classes, conducted to provide instruction and assistance to students who haven't passed some of the Hart Bill competencies, have aided many students this year. Ms. Cheryl Beck taught the math competency class, the English competence class was taught by Mr. James Daugherty and Ms. Jonnie Larson taught the reading competency class. They notified students who hadn't passed some of their competencies, which were needed to graduate. The students were then transferred temporarily into the class and given instruction and help. They then took their unpassed competency tests and usually passed them.

1. Mark Middlestead listens as Ms. Cheryl Beck explains a math problem to him. 2. J. D. Floyd asks Mr. James Daugherty a question about English usage. 3. Mr. James Daugherty explains the English grammar section of the Hart Bill to Kelley Carrison. 4. Michael Diaz concentrates while he takes a Hart Bill proficiency test. 5. Sarah Dimaria watches Ms. Beck check a math problem.





HONORS CLASSES DISPLAY DEDICATION

English Honors IV, the culmination of a four year honors program, was taught by Ms. Sally Hotchkiss. In this class senior honors students developed the ability to analyze poetry and classical works of literature and to give oral presentations of their evaluation. Students were also given preparation for the Advanced Placement Test. In all honors classes grammar and vocabulary were stressed. Junior honors III students were taught American literature by Mrs. Freda Gully. Mr. Al Desmarais taught British literature to sophomore honors II students. Freshmen honors I students were taught a sampling of world literature by Mr. Jim Shields.

RESOURCE PEOPLE AID CHARGER STUDENTS

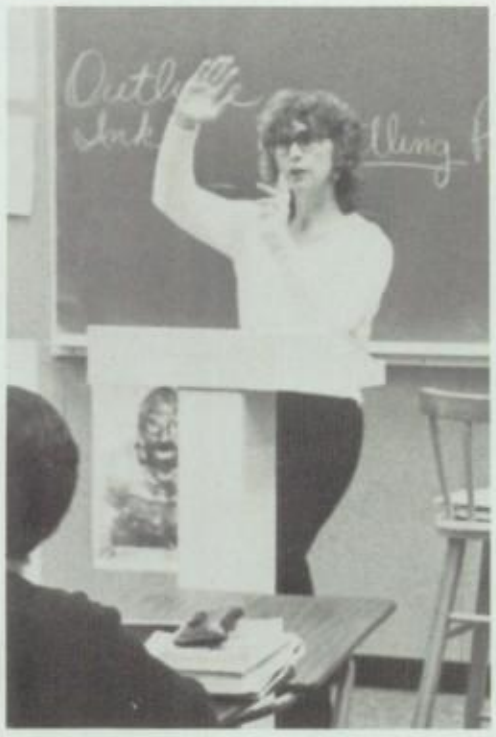
The Resource Specialist Program aided students with learning problems. Mr. Robert Crist and Mr. John Johansen taught students of average intelligence or better who had a discrepancy between function and ability.

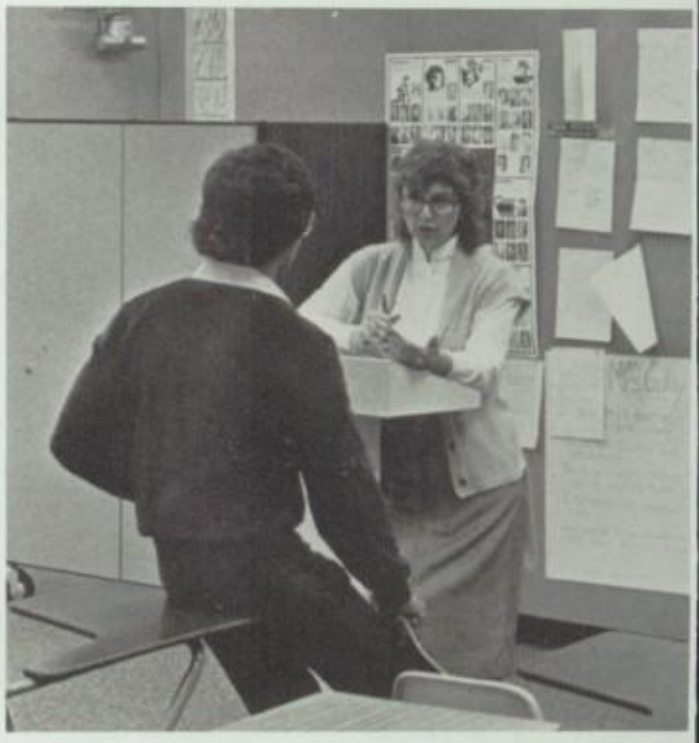
Mrs. Kathy Gundling taught the Special Day Class in which students received directed study that covered any areas in which they might have difficulty. Students also utilized work experience and CROP classes.

Miss Mary Ann Farelli taught her Aphasia classes skills which helped students who had communication or comprehension difficulties. "Students made excellent progress under the Resource Specialist Program," said Mr. Robert Crist.

1. Fidel Carrillo listens to Mr. Robert Crist's instructions. 2. Shawn McGill listens as an assignment is given. 3. Tim Aguilar completes another day of study. 4. Gigi Enos, Mr. Robert Crist and Daryl Bryant go over a homework assignment in class. 5. Chris Meyers listens to Miss Mary Ann Farelli lecture in aphasia class.

GULLY CHOSEN 1981-82 DEDICATEE





When choosing a dedicatee for the 1982 Amanecer, the staff was faced with deciding what qualities a candidate must posses. High respect by both students and peers was thought to be important. That was too vague, more specific qualities were needed for the final decision. Finally the decision was made, the staff was ultimately seeking a well-respected, hard working faculty member, someone who excells at his or her job and goes beyond that job.

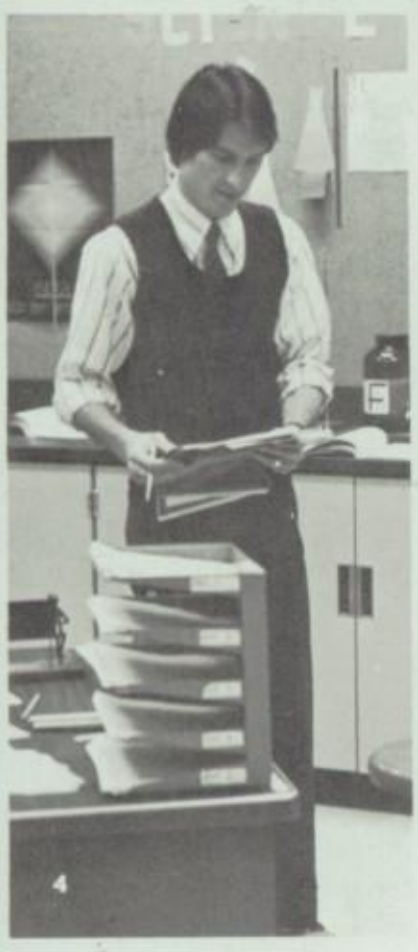
Mrs. Freda Gully has shown El Toro High School all of these characteristics as well as many more. As a teacher, she is respected by her students, as well as her fellow faculty members. She is very knowledgeable in everything she does, she is witty in her unique way, and she is more than willing to help whenever she is asked.

One of the first things a student notices about Mrs. Gully is how strongly she feels that every student deserves a good education. Her concern for her students goes far beyond that of the classes she herself teaches; she is much more concerned with the total picture rather than just a portion. She frequently discusses college in her classes, trying to make her students aware of just how important it is and what it takes to make it in college, as well as to get into a college. Whenever asked she is more than happy to help with a college essay, application, or just questions that need answering. She is often asked to fill necessary recommendations for students' college applications, and is more than willing to fill them out whenever possible, something that must be done on her own time.

Students in Mrs. Gully's classes are set in an atmosphere favorable to Gully herself. "I decorate my room to please myself, I'm the one who is in here all day!" It's obvious as you walk into the room that Mrs. Gully likes Kansas and Woody Allen. She displays a Woody Allen poster, given to her by Mrs. Cindy Kingman, which is the cause of an annual mystery on campus. Each year, no later than week one, Mrs. Gully goes to class to find Woody kidnapped. A ransom note, demanding things such as trading George Brett to the Angels and wiping Kansas from the earth. It's all in fun, though. Each June, Woody is returned, signed on the back by the kidnappers.

On the whole, Mrs. Gully is known about campus as a friendly, helpful person. Being in one of Mrs. Gully's class is not only enjoyable, but is a valuable experience for everyone.

Honor is nothing new to Mrs. Gully. She was chosen as dedicatee of Mission Viejo High School's yearbook while teaching there, and was chosen teacher of the year in 1980.



1. Principal Don Walker talks with English teachers Mr. Jim Shields and Mr. Al Desmairas before an assembly in the gym. 2. Mrs. Pam Sisel takes time out from grading Biology papers to smile for the photographer. 3. During a Cross Country meet at the Canada Loop, Ms. Diane Hale explains the course to observers. 4. Mr. Randy Kent prepares his notes for his Chemistry classes. 5. Health teacher Mrs. Trish Pierson takes advantage of an opportunity to smile for the photographer while her students take a test. 6. Mr. Paul Beidler lectures to his World Cultures class in the library.

When one sits down at a Las Vegas card table, the dealers are the heart of the game; they make everything happen. The dealers not only have to worry about the players, but also the atmosphere. They also have certain standards set for themselves, which in turn make the players feel more at ease and find it easier to concentrate.

It was no different at El Toro High School this year. The dealers, teachers, had the same responsibilities toward the players, or students. Just as in a card game every player has his own needs and the dealers are responsible for dealing each player the right hand.

Just as there are many different levels of card games there are different levels of dealers. Each class, freshmen through seniors, requires different type of knowledge from the dealers. Just as in Las Vegas, many dealers are strictly for one level, while others add variety to their job by dealing to more than one level.

Each of El Toro's dealers add something special to the complete deck.

"DEALERS"

TEACHERS DEAL WITH FULL HOUSE

El Toro's students weren't the only ones beset by the problem of overcrowding. The faculty and staff had to deal with the "full house" as well. Although many teachers were dealt an abundance of "ace" students, others were dealt an overabundance of "jokers".

Some examples of the fine faculty were English teacher Sue Toibin, Dean of students Terry Dazey, library clerk Phyllis Touher, and dedicatee Freda Gully.

As the year progressed, El Toro's faculty became the dealers — dealers who were attempting to make the students become participants in the game of life. For the most part, the odds were with the faculty, and in the end, they, as well as the students were winners.

TOIBIN CHOSEN TEACHER OF 1981-82

English teacher Sue Toibin has taught at El Toro for seven years. She teaches Media, remedial English, advanced grammar, and Shakespeare classes.

Toibin deserves special recognition not only because she is respected by her peers and students, but also because she was honored as being named Saddleback Valley Teacher of the Year. She later was complimented by being chosen as one of the Orange County Teachers of the Year. Toibin is yet another example of the fine staff at El Toro.

"BAD GUY" DAZEY CARES FOR CHARGERS

For the past five years as dean of students, Terry Dazey's name has become well known all around campus. He is perceived as the "bad guy", but in reality, Dazey likes and cares very much about El Toro's students.

Dazey is in charge of discipline, snack and noon supervision, and attendance.

In the future, Dazey said he would like to become principal, but then added jokingly, "I think (motioning toward Mr. Walker's office) he has a few years left."

TOUHER: VALUABLE TEACHER RESOURCE

An integral part of El Toro is its library and media center, which is partially under the care of Phyllis Touher. In the six years she has worked here, Touher has helped make the library a reliable resource available to the students.

Touher goes beyond the "line of duty" by voluntarily video taping materials off of her television for use by El Toro's teachers and students. She truly can be called an "ace" of El Toro's staff.

LUCAS ARRANGES FOREIGN VISITATIONS

French teacher Lynn Lucas has spent ten of her twelve teaching years at El Toro. Not only does she teach French, levels 1-4, but since 1977 Lucas has been helping send students abroad on the AFS program.

Lucas enjoys working with her students, but doesn't like the size of the school.

"In spite of the hassles of teaching and stress, it's worth sticking with," Miss Lucas claimed, and then added, "It keeps me young."

HENRY TRAINS NUMEROUS DRAFTSMEN

In the Technical Education department there is one instructor who deserves recognition — Frank Henry. He teaches drafting and architecture, and also is the department chairman.

A graduate of Indiana State University, Henry enjoys teaching at El Toro because of the large size of the school.

Henry's favorite times of the year are Homecoming and his annual paper airplane design contest.

52 IN PICTORIAL REVIEW FOR 81-82

The 1981-82 school year started out with up-to-date fashions. Clothes ranged from mini skirts, knickers, and metalic accessories to Izod shirts and Top-siders. Assorted headbands and shoelaces decorated with everything from hearts to alligators were a common sight. Ruffles and puffy sleeves were seen as well as pleated pants. Overall, the students had good times and looks staying up with the stylish fashions of 1981-82.

1. October 9 and 11, 1981, over 180,000 fans crowded into the Los Angeles Coliseum to see the Rolling Stones concert. Pictured is Mick Jagger. 2. Ann Curry, Lisa Gasser, and Holly Larsen posed for the photographer at the welcome back dance in September. 3. Saturday, September 26, 1981, Nolan Ryan pitched the fifth no-hitter of his career. The Houston Astro pitcher was the first to acomplish this in major league baseball history. 4. On September 30, 1981, Southern California's first storm hit, complete with thunder, rain, and lightning. 5. On September 16, 1981, Sugar Ray Leonard knocked out Thomas Hearns in the fourteenth round of their fight for the undisputed welterweight boxing championship of the world, at Caesar's Palace, Las Vegas.

Jim-if you only knew! You've been the best friend.We've shared a lot -thank you.Good luck at Boulder, I know you'll knock 'em dead (PS thank for 4AM -that was an experience!Ha!)Love you guys big t.t.-What can I say? You know what I really think & feel.You made a great pres.. I hope you had fun,I wish you the best always,I know you'll be a success-you wouldn't have it any other way. One favor(you always said I never asked for favors)just remember me,&remember us. Kristen-well through trauma and tragedy, from Geom, to Psych,we finally made it! I always knew you were there if I was in need-that is true friendship. Go get 'em @ USC-I know you'll make it just like I know we'll always be friends.
Jerry-It all started when this adorable swimmer guy...thanx for so much CQ (you really do dress great)introducing me to the Boss,making swimming so much fun, & making me realize what I missed 1½ yrs. ago.I really care about you.Have fun next year!
Terri-Funny what it takes to find true friends,thanx for all your help(in class &out) Kit or Stanford watch out-'cause here she comes!
Good-bye El Toro High-It's been fun;but it's time to go!! Love, Johnna B. '82"

Kristen-Well where does it all begin? '78Yearbook in Junior High;first loves Tom and Jeff;beach, cold days, coke and cloves;mopedrides down the coast; long hatred, Laguna Basketball players; Disneyland; skiing! yah!;growing walks;ditching and watching soaps; hard times in '81 Yearbook; talks with Mr. Allen; Studying for finals; all our sharing times; shopping adventures(dress for the wedding for you); parties; and Babyday;These are so few of the many times we shared and so little of all the times yet to come. High School was an endless pain but without you I would have never made it,Thank You. There are now new futures ahead of the both of us, I wish You the Best of Luck! Always keep in touch and remember to use your power to its fullest to get what you want out of life, use your past experiences wisely and don't take life to seriously. I love you. Tauka-You'll always be remembered by me and so many others. I'll never forget Biology with Mrs. Sisil and the ink on your butt! Trent-You made Economics bearable and sometimes fun. It was fun leading Mrs. Doalson off the track. Mom + Dad-Thanks for the help and putting up with me. I love you both. Cole-My little brother, I wish you the best of luck through all the years, if you ever need any help come to me I've learned all the tricks of High School, ask Mom. Jeffrey-I remember all and look forward to all the times to come.I love You(forever and ever)kitty to! I swear to you now I was always true!!!
Good luck the rest of you,
Class of '82 we made it!
Underclassmen-it's a long road!!!

To Kenny Williams: Remember Goldmine and that dumb tree that jumped out in front of me and made me break my leg? Those were the days. Remember LosAlisos(1976). I'll never forget. You will always be my honey. I love you and always will. To all my buddies: Margie(Mega) O., Tom Williams, Shereen F., Tammy Winslow, Marci V., Lilac B., Julie C., Greg Arnett, Jeff Sadun, Dave B., Kristine Eachus and everyone else who distroyed my house and killed my plants on Baby Night-- Thanks A lot -- It was fun!!! To Mega Cool: well what can I say exsept... Look out Arizona here comes Mega Cool. Too bad you don't remember Baby night. To Shereen(Dixie) Fernie: Don't forget those dumb clown outfits... And coffee at Sambos'.Thanks for always being there when I needed it most. And remember--Europe here we come! To Kristine Eachus: Good luck w/ your career and break a leg-- not an arm, I do not want to get blamed AGAIN! To Tammy Winslow: I hope everything in life goes your way. Be good. To my brothers Chuck and Mark: your both a pain in the butt but I love you both very much. Thanks for always being there. To Helen Sena: From all the AMENDOLA's we love you and thank you for all your help and understanding. Good luck in the future. Bye-Bye.To Greg A.: I hope you make it big someday and make alot of $ but not before me Okay! To Tom Williams: It wasalways besy and I could never get through.

-FRIENDS-

PAM...There is so much to thank you for. First for being my Best Friend, and always being there to listen. Second for being wild & crazy like me. We have done so much together-Baby day, Beaching it B-M, Back Pack, football games, Dancing, Staying up all night laughing and just hitting the town. Thanks for everything!! Mostly for putting up with me. BETSY...Forest Home, M.V. football games, diets, finding lovers, and just being weird. Friends Always!!!!! K.S....My first love. Little Sis...may your high school years be as good as mine.KIM...We go back a long way. Thanks for being such a special friend. I hope your life is full of love and fun because that's what you are made of. Thanks for all of the good advice.!!!! AMY...living thirteen houses away, being on diets, laughing all night, doing dumb and crazy things that's what a crazy friend like you is really like.DAWN...all the happiness in the world. Hope you have fun in everything you do. Remember good times and forget the bad, I can. Thanks for everything. LINDA...Best wishes, fun times, Baby day, and 50's day. Be happy always. MARK,SCOTT and BRAD have fun and be good. I love you alot. I owe everything to my parents. Thanks for being so supportive. Also I want to say thanks to the best Dad in this world. Ilove you more than words could ever say. MOM there is one thing I can sya and that is your a wonderful mom. Thanks for being there when I needed you. Thanks to M.H.B.C. for being my second home. BRAD...Thanks for being my right hand man!! The one who made this all possible is the LORD!!! Thanks for giving me all of these friends and great parents!!! Joan...to all our good times at M.H.B.C. Susan... Best of luck. TIM SMITH...Thanks for everything, you made my high school years complete. I am going to miss you!!!

All of my love, to all of my friends at El Toro High School!!!

Good-bye E.T.!

Class of 82- we're out of here!
Mom & Dad-I love you both very much!We've had a few rough years, but we're survivors.Knowing that I will always have your love and support make it easier. Karen- You're the ONLY person that knows the REAL me! We've had some great bathroom moments-Ha! Good luck at E.T.-I'm going to miss you. Gunnar-We've got endless memories,starting with blue pyramids and piers-I'll never forget those days,when life was simple,yet seemed so complex.We, of the higher conciousness must stick together! I love you very much! Kim-remember the beginning w/ J.S. & T.M.? There was skiing! deadlines-ugh- finals, long nails, SWIM! Disneyland, emotional walks, nachos at the Villa,and remember bailing on school for a good talk & some B.&C.? My favorite thing of all; walking thru lagunas in jeans and a sweater w/ a coke & a clove! God only knows what we've gone thru together. And we still have each other- I love you-don't forget our apt. in S.D. or Malibu! Mr. Allen-what can I say to you?Ilove you! Thank-you. You've made everlasting impressions on me. Johnna-remember back to J.&T.? We've come a long way!You are one of my true friends.Please always know that you can count on me for love & support-We can't lose touch! Luck & happiness to you always. Tauka-You are always in my thoughts-you hold a very special place in my heart and life.There was the "bang" theory,Renaissance Pleasure Faire,surfing!& endless body-womping! guitar, Europe,L-O-S-C BAIR! the Beatles, and ALL those babes we were in love W/. It was too much fun-from you I learned never to take "NO" as an answer. If you could only know how much I love & miss you,"woman". "Catch it!"

These past 4 years hold so many memories & changes-
"But at my back I always hear Time's winged chariot hurrying near."

To the class of 82-WE DID IT!! Good luck and happiness to all of you

Bob J. ...it seems like we go back forever! It's been great. Debbie, no matter what you say, I'll always be embarrassed. Sorry, Airhead, I miss you. Bob S., Mike C. and Ed M. ...Physics class was the greatest! Bob S. ...Have you gone crazy lately??? Carolyn...Deep down, you'll always be my Honey. Tracie M. and JoDee S.: I'll never forget all those crazy laughing phone calls. Kim C.: Don't ever forget that cucumbers will always rule paradise forever. Also, have you had any bell peppers lately?????? Kristen, if you only knew. Gully....You've been the BEST teacher I've ever had. I wish somehow I could take you to college with me. Herron and Vanleuven: You guys crack me up. You made the impossible "fun." Micki: you were one of the few people who really made me think. Goodbye El Toro. It's been great. K.C. Thanks for everything. J.R.I.L.Y.A. Good luck Audra, We'll have to get hitched again sometime K? Carrie....Don't worry, my stomach will be fine without you. Scruffy and Brian....you two are such ladie's men....you crack me up. Thanks to all my teachers and especially to Mr. Herman for all the help. Thanks to all and goodbye to all my friends. Hope to see everyone soon
David Price.....

I'm leaving El Toro High with not only knowledge, but also many good friends and memories. Fred(Freddies): We've had a lot of good times together and shared a lot of memories. Keep in touch. Dawna(Duck): What can I say except thanks for being a friend. Remember BABY DAY?!!! Mike R.:Tons of thanks to you for putting up with my ramblings and my requests for help in our classes.Renee': Don't forget our gab sessions on the corner(and J.Z., R.A.....). Dana S.: Thanks for being around when I needed someone to talk to. Dana P.: How did we ever make it through English and Physics?! Daphne, Lynn, Colleen, Julie, Melanie, Amy, Claudia: Thanx for being the friends that you are: I couldn't have made it without you. Terry(my brother):Keep working: you'll make it someday. Mom & Dad: Thanks for your support. To all of my teachers A million thank-yous for imparting some of your knowledge to me. To everyone in Choir: keep on singing; its good for you! Last but not least, to everyone that I've had the privilledge of knowing: A Great Big THANK YOU for being you! You've made ETHS great!!!

TAKE CARE SENIORS. YOU ARE THE BEST!

Cathie nokes
(Kathy) for you
Susan

My 2 years at ET have been short but the best. Thank you B.J. & Lee for helping me adjst to ET and get to know everyone. I was so scared to start over again. You 2 helped me fit right in. Best of luck to C.R. (my 1st grade sweetheart). Thanks to all my friends that put up w/me in all my bitchy,weird,depressed,crazy,obnoxious,etc. moods I love ya all for it.
HERE'S TO-- all those KINKY conversations at lunch(Verena was so shocked as she slowly began understanding English better)--WILD PARTIES (Where is Treva?)--BAHYDAY (car stuck on railroad tracks) --POWDER PUFF--and long live BFers,Shelly,Lee,Jenny,Cindy,Debbie, Becky,Kim and me!
--To Don who I dragged (screaming all the way) to Sadie Hawkins. It wasn't that bad was it Don?
And to Kim Atkin, my best friend, who I miss very much--It's not the same w/o YOU!

TAKE CARE, MY FRIENDS & BE HIGH ON LIFE ALWAYS__ GOOD LUCK CLASS OF 82

Devine:When you're a freshmen, you don't really know how to act. The way things are pictured in our minds are different than the way they turn out. You hope for one thing & it turns out a disaster! After my long 4 yrs. of feeling guilty, I've finally gotten up enough nerve to tell you how honestly sorry I am. I was wrong; I don't see how I could have ever thought such a horrible thing about someone as special as you. I'm not asking you to condone what I have done, but to be my very good friend again. I hope you have a good life ahead of you & hang on to those boyfriends cuz they're handy to have around! HA HA Carrie:Hang in there cranks, only 1 more yr. 2 go! And never forget those meaningful words we used through H.S.(hosebag, weak dog, fooel, Cranky Pants, our "Vamp Lang", it's twu, it's twu & a wed wose, how womantic) Remember all that wasted time we spent chasing cute guys that never noticed us. PS. No more cookies for you little girl cuz they give you the giggles!! Linda:All I want to say is, I hope you invite me to you & Eric's wedding. (whenever it is)
Love & Hugs to all my friends!!!!

Tailback Dam[illegible] weazy triumphantly leaves t[illegible]eld following a game.

Torky-Lisa, can you believe it, we have finally made it? Remember all the crazy times: the beach with the "shark," skiing-"Will I ever get down this hill?," the parties-"Where are my shoes?," and Baby Night-"GO TO NOGGLES!" Your the best friend I could ever hope to find, thanks for all the great times. Good luck in the future.
Wendy-We've been through a lot over the past 6 years. Remember: bus. law-"Go climb a rock," cruising-"Get him out of the car!," P.E.-"Sexy-Legs," "Tripsey," and "Bowling Buddies." Baby Night, "D.K.," the 4th of July, and the movies with Mike and Rick. Thanks for all the craziness.
Steve-"No I didn't forget about your birthday." Thanks for helping me through some of the rough times. No matter what happens to us in the course of our lives, you will always hold a special place in my heart.
Sheri-Thanks for always being there.
Summer Group-Mr.B.,C.C.,D.L.,J.T.,L.O.,D.G.,B.St.J.,A.St.J, etc. Through all the nervousness, rehearsals, and hard work, I had a great time. Thank you for all your support, friendship, and understanding.
Football Rowdies-Dawn, Julie, Colleen, Daphne, Joe, Polly, Jenny, Susan, and Jim. Thanks for all those Friday nights.
Baby Bunch-Remember the canyon? "It's dark in here, please turn around, I'm scared." The parking lot-"Oh my gosh, the police, hide!" the movies, Sambo's-"Cook's Canyon Buddy."
Mr. B.-What are you going to do without me during 3rd period? Do you remember all the football games? The triumphs and the upsets, "The Northlands Cardiac Kids," Kramer-"The Comeback Kid," and the Rams (I'll withhold comment). You've done a lot for me in the past, and I truely appreciate it. You've given me your guidance, wisdom, support, trust, understanding, encouragement, and most of all your friendship. Thank you for always being there when I needed someone to talk to.

I Love You All,
Annie

TWO OF A KIND

Kerry.

The years arer and were through. Twelve years and its over so quickly. So tell you the truth
I'm glad its over. I'm arreaus to go to college in San Diego.
Sure and I hope to stay together through the whole time. We're seriously thinking of marriage. Your invited and you'll be a brides maid. I hope everything goes well for you whether it includes Jem or someone else.

Can you believe Kelli card and I were kicked off D.T. What a pity.
Mrs. Haren won't be there next year. Yes!

I really enjoyed D.T the first two years. That is when we became close friends.
I will always remember San Jose. Those were fun

I can't wait for the Prom
this Saturday.
It should be so much fun. I want one of your pictures to stay. They don't come until the summer. It will be a good excuse for me to come see your appartment. Lets keep in touch through the summer. Go to the beach @ maui or something one in awhile.
Have a great time at college and take it easy.

Love always. '82

Each year the Amanecer staff puts forth all its efforts to produce the best yearbook ever. This year was no exception. A hard-working staff and advisor made the job much easier, but it couldn't have been done alone. Throughout the year many people contributed their valuable time and efforts to help make this book the best ever. As editor in chief for the 1982 Amanecer, I would like to acknowledge those people.

To the Amancer Staff: Your dedication really paid off. The final product is yours to be proud of.

To Mr. Bob Stephenson and Taylor Publishing Company: Thank you for all your time and cooperation, it really made things a lot easier for us.

To Albert and James Photographers: Thank you for all your help and for making four nights of senior pictures a bearable task.

To Mr. Al Desmarais: Thank you for the use of your room during senior pictures.

To Mike Redmond and Mrs. Phyllis Touher: Thank you very much for your fine work in preparing the slide show. Your dedication was very helpful.

To Mr. Dennis Dunton: Thank you for offering us the use of your photo 3 students throughout the year.

To the entire El Toro High School faculty: Thank you for being so cooperative with our photographers for faculty candid pictures.

To the secretaries: Thank you for all your help with distribution, you really made things a lot smoother for us.

To Mr. Roger Alfaro, Mr. Rich Sianez and Staff: Thank you for your help in setting up the facilities in the gym for the slide show.

To Don Doty: Thank you for your superb help with photography, I really appreciate your expertise.

To the coaches and club advisors: Thank you for your cooperation on club and team picture days.

To Gene Zepnak: Thank you for allowing us to stay late during senior pictures.

To Craig Yeagarian: Thank you for all the help and cooperation during late night deadlines.

To the sponsors: Thank you all for helping us out by taking out ads in the book. You are all deeply appreciated.

I thank you all for all your help and cooperation in making the staff's job much easier.

Sincerely,

Lisa Jordildson

Editor in Chief

Hi Schwabby-

What would I do without you, you beg goonberry? We've been through tons, huh? Boyfriend problems, D.J., San Jose, (I'll never forgive you guys for crapping my page) and a million other things. You're a sweetie cake the bestest friend I have. I can tell you anything and not have to worry about you judging
